COMMITTEE OVER DE NATURELLEN.

Kaap de Goede Hoop, 1837.

Door de toegenegendheid van eenen vriend, zyn wy begunstigd geworden, met de inzage van eenige der laatste notulen van de verrigtingen van het bovengemelde Committee, uit het Lagerhuis, waaruit wy zoo vele extracten mededeelen als de kortheid des tyds gedoogde van derzelver inhoud te maken. Het Committee hervatte deszelfs werkzaamheden op den 27 February ll. en het door ons ingezien getuigenis, loopt tot den 21 April. Blykens eene resolutie van het Committee, had men besloten niets meer voor hetzelve te brengen, behalve hetgeen individuen, die beschouden, dat hun getuigenis was aangevallen geworden, zouden oordeelen ter hunner vryspraak te kunnen dienen. De personen die omtrent de Kaap onderzocht zyn, bestaan uit de Heeren George Greig, Saxe Bannister, Guybon Atherstone, Kolonel Wade, den Eerwaarden Doktor Philip en den Eerw. Stephen Kay. De notulen zyn zestien in getal, veleu waarvan slechts betrekking hebben op andere Kolonien, of schriftelyk getuigenis en stukken bavatten door de onderscheidene getuigen op gedoeld. Er liep een gerucht, dat het Committee deszelfs openbaar onderzoek had gesloten, en onverwyld zoude overgaan tot het opmaken van deszelfs verslag, waaruit wy moeten bekennen, noch voldoening noch regt te verwachten. De zamenstelling van het gekozene Committee, de wyze waarop de getuigen gedurende het geheele onderzoek zyn ondervragd geworden, de tastbare vooringenomenheid der meerderheid tegen de Kolonisten en het gebrek aan alle echte onschiedkundige reden van wetenschap in het getuigenis voor hetzelve afgelegd, stellen hetzelve byna buiten de mogelykheid eene billyke uitspraak te doen, of een nauwkeurig oordeel te vellen. Wy vermenen, dat het Committee deszelfs pligt heeft verwaarloosd, door niet meer mannen van proefondervinding en goede plaatselyke kennis uit de Kolonie, als getuigen te hebben opgeroepen, en deuken, dat de Kolonisten weinig goeds uit deszelfs verrigtingen te wachten hebben, wanneer men overweegt, dat de Committee Zaal het strydperk is gemaakt geworden, van tergachtige wederzydsche beschuldigingen, jesuitische list, en te wel gelaagde staatkundige oogmerken. Tot dat eene Commissie op de plaats zelve onderzoek doet, en nauwkeurig de informatie thans door den Heer Donald Moodie, op last van het Koloniale Gouvernement ingezameld wordende, uitpluist, waahopen wy aan eenig wezenlyk herstel van die verongelykingen en nadeelen, welke voldoende zyn, om eene minder vreedzame maatschappy dan de onze tot volkomene wanhoop te vervoeren. By het maken der bovengemelde aanmerkingen, is het slechts billyk te melden, dat de Kolonisten veel verschuldigd zyn aan den Heer Bugshaw een der Leden van het Committee, wiens contra-ondervragingen veel licht hebben verspreid, zoo wel als aan Kolonel Wade, die de goede zaak op eene zoo edele wyze ten dienste gestaan, en zyn best heeft gedaan om valschheid en huichelary, gehuld in het vroomste gewaad en schoonste voorkomen, te ontmaskeren.

Onderzoek, 27 February 1837.

Vraag aan den Heer Greig,—wees zoo goed opgegeven, welke zinsneden in het getuigenis U voorkomen, onregtvaardige aanmerkingen te bevatten, ten opzigte van een of meer individuen?—Ik kan slechts kortelyk antwoorden;—thans herinner ik my, de zaak van Erasmus, door Kapitein Stockenstrom gemeld. Ik bevond my, te Grahams-stad, toen de getuigen gehoord wierden omtrent de waarheid dier zaak, en ik herinner my, dat meest al de opgaven voor dit Committee gedaan, wierden wederlegd door het getuigenis van personen, die gezegd werden des tyds op de Commando te zyn geweest. Het getuigenis, dat ik te Grahams-stad hoorde afleggen, baarde by my eenen indruk, dat het geheel strydig was, met dat alhier afgelegd,—geheelyk daartegen aanloopende—(door Kapitein Stockenstrom).

Oud zo k, 14 Maart 1837.

SAXE BANNISTER bevoelt vele nieuwe schikkingen aan, ter bescherming der Naturellen in de Kolonien; en maakt by het bekendmaken der denkbeelden van zyn plan, vele aanmerkingen over de Kaap.

"De verdediging van regtvaardigheid in den jongsten Kafferoorlog, is een toeval toetsschryven aan byzondere omstandigheden,"—"Aan de Kaap de Goede Hoop, in eene vigting scheel ondervoelelen van Caffertrad, zaan rooveren op het vee der inlanders, invallen in hun land, het wegroven hunner kinderen als slaven, en het vermoorden van het volk voor de hoeren, dat is nog even zoo v art, als dezelve, sedert vele jaren, onbelemmerd zyn voortgegaan. De misdaden aldaar, jegens de inlanders gepleegd, zyn zeer menigvuldig, en hebben eene bloeddorstige weerwraak te weeg gebragt, aan den kant der inlandsche stammen. Zelf op dit oogenblik hebben schrikvolle tooneelen plaats in Zuid-Afrika, die slechts het vervolg en de voltooying zyn der misdaden aan den Gouverneur van de Kaap, en den Secretaris van Staat, voor de Kolonien, vele Jaren geleden, reeds ter kennisse gebragt.

Onderzoek 17 Maart 1837.

De Heer GUYBON ATHERSTONE.—Ter verdediging zyner beëedigde verklaringen, (dat namelyk de brieven onder de naamteekening van Tzatzoe, volgens zyne opgaaf zyn geschreven, doch door den Eerwaarden Heer Brownlee, en dat Jan Tzatzoe de opgaaf van een Kaffer had vertolkt, dat de Eerw. Heer Read, den jongsten oorlog had aangedrongen, welke beëedigde verklaringen door Jan Tzatzoe waren ontkend geworden), gevende Atherstone te kennen, dat hy het gevoelen waarop deze beëedigde verklaringen zyn afgelegd, niet kon veranderen.

Kolonel T. F. Wade, dient de beëedigde verklaring in van Majoor, den Tolk, op wien in de beëedigde verklaring van den Hr. Atherstone wordt gezinspeeld, de verklaring van den Hr. A. bekrachtigende, welke beëedigde verklaring door Pato wordt verzekerd waar te zyn, zynde by tegenwoordig geweest op den tyd in de beëedigde verklaring vermeld. Hierna gaat de Kolonel over tot verscheidene zaken, waaromtrent hy zyne bezwaren opgeeft:—1 het aannemen van gevoelens en aanmerkingen in het Lager Huis, omtrent de wet tegen Landloopery, door Doktor Philip, welke Committee hem had geweigerd te maken;—2 de onderdrukking van daar op betrekkelyke documenten, het lezen waarvan het Committee aan Doctor Philip had toegestaan,—3 de uitlating* van eene belangryk zeinsnede in eenen brief door Doktor Philip in de Notulen van het Committee geplaatst, door hem op den 13 Maart 1834, aan den Gouverneur geschreven, waarvan het original door Kolonel Wade voor het Committee is gelegd geworden, terwyl hy de uitgelatene zinsnede oplas,—en 3 de strydigheid tusschen de verzekering van Kapitein Fawcett, dat Tzatzoe door Doctor Philip is genodigd geworden hem naar Engeland te vergezellen, en Tzatzoes ontkentenis van deze omstandigheid.

Onderzoek, 21 Maart.

De Eerw. Doctor Philip, verschoont zichzelven wegens de uitlating, in den brief aan Sir B. D'Urban, van den 13 Maart 1834; daar, het Committee slechts hebbende willen bekend maken, met zyne gevoelens over het commando en patrouille stelsel, hy de bedoelde zinsnede had uitgelaten,—als op dezelve gene betrekking hebbende, dat de uitlating niet opzettelyk was geschied, zynde de copy aan de Kaap de Goede Hoop gemaakt geworden—by had verschillen gehad met de Wesleyanen—had geen reden voor deszelfs uitlating, dan die van kieschheid jegens een ander geestelyk genootschap. Toen de brief door den persoon dien hy daartoe gebruikte wierd gekopieerd, kwam by hem de gedachte op, dat hy kon sterven, en niet wist in wiens handen die documenten zouden kunnen komen—by wenschte niet, dat eenig geschrift van hem aanmerkingen zoude bevatten op de Wesleyanen, of eenig ander genootschap voortreden zyn jesuit!) —heeft aan den Gouverneur niet geschreven die zinsnede intetrekken—beschouwde het als eene private vertrouwelyke mededeeling"—doch durft niet zeggen of Sir Benjamin de zelve in hetzelfde licht beschouwde: Was het niet een brief geadresseerd aan Sir Benjamin D'Urban, en niet aan zyn Zyne Excellentie den Gouverneur? Ja, het was en is aan hem in zyn eigen huis*, niet op het Bureau, den Raads inhaudigd gewoden.

De Eerw. S. KAY, leest een lang artikel over het onderwerp zyna aanrals op de commandos onder Majoor Dundas en Kolonel Somerset, waardoor de Fetcani stammen, die in het jaar 1828 optrokken om Hintza te overwelmen en te vernielen, verslagen zyn, met breedvoerige extracten uit zyn eigen vertaal werk—behandelingen omtrent de verklaringen van onderscheidene aan de grenzen wonende getuigen over het natuurlyk karakter der Kaffers, aanmerkingen, over de behandeling der Kaffer Opperhoofden—allen te lang om in een blad te plaatsen, weshalve wy den lezer verwyzen naar het getuigenis zelve (No. 6) waaria hy eingstwyfeld het grootste vermaak zal scheppen.

* "Zy hebben altyd de Wesleyaansche Zendelingen tot verdedigers gehad. Macomo, aan den anderen kant, is niet onder zulke gelukkige omstandigheden geweest. De Kaffer Zendelings Statie aan de Katrivier, is door de uitzetting van dat Opperhoofd uit dat land, gesloten geworden, voor dat er eenige aanmerkelyke indruk op hem of zyn volk ter aanneming des christendoms was gemaakt geworden, en dezelve is sedert in zulk eenen staat van onzekerheid, wanorde en beduchtheid geblieven, dat er gene aanmoediging voor eenen Zendeling bestaat om zich by hem te voegen, om zoo doende eenig duurzaam goed by hem of zyn volk te stichten. Botma en Eno hebben nimmer Zendelingen onder hen gehad. Ik heb de vryheid gebruikt eene vertaling en kopy van eenen brief van het Kaffer-Opperhoofd Tzatzoe intesluiten." De volgende zinsnede wordt dan uitgelaten in de kopy die de Eerwaarde Doctor voor het Committee heeft gelegd. Er is eenigsskyn eene andere reden waarop acht moet worden geslagen in het doorloopen uwer Excellentie informatie, om de oorzaak aantetoonen van de gunst den Opperhoofden, op de Wesleyaansche Statien in Kafferland betoond; de Wesleyaansche Zendelingen zyn altyd door Kolonel Somerset opgeryzeld geworden, en zy zyn altyd gewoon geweest hem te pryzen, en zy zyne Commandoes meer dan de Zendelingen van andere Genootschappen, te verdedigen.

* Op den 21sten April, meldt de Doctor—dat hy niet bedoelde dat de brief privaat zoude zyn—er was in het geheel gene private mededeeling tusschen my en den Gouverneur."

* Een privaat Heer, nu en dan het Gouvernements Huis bezoekende!!!

DE AANGELEGENHEDEN DER GRENZEN.

KAFFER STROOPERYEN.

(Uit "The Grahams Town Journal," van 24 Aug. 1837).

Uit juist door ons ontrangene berigten maken wy de volgende Extracten:—

Extract 1.—"Kampher Post, Augustus 14.—Gisteren vervoerden eenige Kaffers te paard omtrent 200 stuks vee, ons en Kampher toebehoorende, terwyl een groot getal Kaffers over de grenzen verzameld was. Zoodra de herders de alarmkreet gaven, rukten vele Fingoes zeer moedig uit, en wy volgden hen zeer schielyk met eenige der scherpschutters te paard, doch eer wy aankwamen hadden de Fingoes het vee hernomen. De stroopers ontsnapten echter. Dit alles gebeurde in het gezigt van de Post, en omtrent twee mylen van de Grenslinie."

Extract 2.—"Balfour, Augustus 21.—De Kaffers spelen hier eene frayze tot, drie Fingoes zyn in Blinkwater gedood geworden, en veel vee is gerooid geworden. De post vertrekt zoo, anders zoude ik meer byzonderheden van hun gedrag hebben medegedeeld."

Extract 3.—"Fort Armstrong, Augustus 22.—Op den 18 dezer, zyn 56 stuks vee en een aantal bokken van de Fingoes, die lang te Brownlee; eene volkplanting binnen kanonschot van deze post, hebben gewoond, vervoerd geworden. Het vee is opgespoord geworden naar de Grenslinie, zonder dat men de stroopers achterhaalde, en de opspoorders keerden toen terug en spoorden de schapen en bokken na, tot in een bosch naby Buxton, en aldaar vonden zy de koppen en vellen van velen der besten; terwyl eenige vrouwen en kinderen, behoorende aan een van Botmas Kaffers, die sedert eenigen tyd aan de Katrivier hebben gewoond, zich op het vleesch vergastteden. Die Kaffer is nu afwezig.

"Op ll. Zaturdag, roofden de Kaffers wederom eenig vee van Buxton, (onpaarlelyk niet den Heer E. F. Buxton). Het vee wakker nagespoord zynde, wierd den zelfden avond hernomen, en de Kaffers, bemerkende dat zy de bokken niet konden wegdryven, slagtten al dezelve een weinig benoten Booy's plaats. Op Zondag avond verliet de wagen van Michiel Pretorius deze post voor Fort Beaufort, met een vracht voeder voor het Commissariaat. Hy spande uit aan den kant van Blinkwater, en omtrent een uur daarna pakten de Kaffers zich met zyne ossen weg en vermoordden zynen Fingoe leider. Den zelfden avond beroofden de Kaffers al het volk, onlangs door den Luitenant-Gouverneur naby Blinkwater gelokeerd, van al hun vee. Een Kaffer is gedood en een ander zwaar gekwetst geworden, een Hottentot wordt vermist en een ander is gewond. Macomo bevindt zich nu aan Blinkwater, met 20 scherpschutters te paard, om de Kaffers in dat oord te betengelen. Eene patrouille heeft van Tyalie's kraal aan de Zwarte Kei, eenige paarden genomen, die van Fort Beaufort waren gestolen. De Kaffers zwerven nu in groote partyen in de Kolonie om. Deze toestand van zaken kan niet voortduren."

In de nabuurschap van Fort Peddie blyft alles rustig. De Kaffers wachten klaarblykelyk om te zien welke stappen er genomen zullen worden om hunne onlangs gepleegde geweldenary te straffen. Van die plaats schryft een Correspondent: "In bryoeging tot de stammen u te voren gemeld als betrokken in het dooden en plunderen der Fingoes in den omtrek van Fort Peddie, te weten, die van Eno, Seyolo, Umkeye, en Konobi, heb ik sedert van twee andere vernomen, te weten: een gedeelte van de Amandanke (Botmans Kaffers) en een gedeelte van de Amantinde (Tzatzoes Kaffers). De Kaffer naby het Fort gedood, behoorde tot den laatstgemelden stam.

POSTSCRIPTUM.

Sedert ons blad ter perse ging zyn wy verzocht geworden te melden, dat 80 Finger familien van hunne woonteden aan de Mancanzana verdreven, en die begerig zyn dienst te nemen, heden te Slaaikraal, in de nabyheid van Grahamstad, zullen aankomen.

Daar hun vee waarschynlyk eene hinderpaal zoude zyn, in de bekoming van dienst by de Boeren en by de Inwoners der stad, alsmede eene sterke aansporing voor de Kaffers om hen te volgen en te vieselaaien, [illegible] September, aan de Schut te Grahamstad by publieke veiling worden verkocht. "O! hoe lang zyn de grooten gezonken."

(Uit de Grahams Town Journal van 31 Augustus 1837.)

De Fingoes die door de Kaffers van de Mancanzana zyn verdreven geworden, in weerwil van het Traktaat, zyn nog in de nabyheid van Graham's-stad. Zy hebben echter geweigerd hun vee op last van den Luitenant Gouverneur, ter verkoop aangekondigd, te verkoopen, en wachten klaarblykelyk om te zien welke stappen hunne Beschermers zullen nemen, om het geweld hen aangedaan, te herstellen. Het is eene daadzaak die niet uit het oog moet worden verloren, dat alle Kaffer-stammen, behalve die van Pato, Kama en Cobus die een gedeelte van het neutraal grondgebied, op beloofte van goed gedrag hebben verkregen, in dat geweld zyn betrokken,—dus meldt de schryver eens briefs, van de onmiddelyke grenzen thans voor ons liggende, gedagteekend, 22 dezer, als volgt:—

"Zaturdag hebben wy een berigt ontvangen, dat Eno's en Gaika's Kaffers, de zich omtrent de Chumie bevindende Fingoes hebben aangevallen. * * * Met de Fingoes, had men echter om de Kaffer spreuk te bezigen, nog niet klaar, daar zy weder zeer spoedig zouden worden aangevallen. * * * De Kaffer die dat nieuws heeft gebragt is (zoo ik denk) op Woensdag ll., van de Beka vertrokken, om zyne vrouw aan de Xabecaxivier, naby Fort Willshire, op den Oostelyken oever van de Keiskama, (dezelfde rivier waar de Gouverneur den nachts vertoefde, op den eersten dag na den Inval in Kafferland in April 1835) te halen, en keerde weder terug op Vrydag avond, den 18 dezer. Toen deze Kaffer aan de Xabeca aankwam, vond hy al de mannen afwezig, doch na eenen dag wachtens kwamen zy allen terug, en van hen vernam hy de bovengemelde byzonderheden."

Thans blyft er voor ons niets meer overig, dan toetsten dat men met de Fingoes klaar heeft, en of de Britsche magt openlyk zal worden getrotseerd, ten einde de gebreken eens stelsels dat de Kolonie met roesche schrede ter onherstelbare verderve sleept, een goed voorkomen te geven of te verbergen.

Uit eenen brief gedagteekend, Glen Lynden, 20 Augustus, maken wy het volgende extract:—

"Op Dingadag, den 15 dezer, stalen de Kaffers van de plaats van den Veldkornet Van der Nest, Roech Fontein, vier zwarte ossen, die hy slechts eenige weken bevorens voor Rds. 140 had gekocht. Den dag daarna spoorden eenige boeren het gestolen vee op, tot digt by de plaats van den Heer Wentzel, aan het beneden gedeelte der Kowie-rivier. Hier staakte men door de afgematheid der paarden, de verdere vervolging, zoo dat de roovers, die in getal, met de buit ontsnapten. Omtrent denzelfden tyd verdwenen twee paarden, een den Eerw. Heer Welsh, en 1 et ander Christian Vouche, toebehoorende, die niettegenstaande alle nasporing, nog weg zyn."

Op Vrydag, ll., vond men tien ossen, in een dier laagte en afgezonderste deelen van het Kowie Bosch, waar dezelve onmogelyk van zelve of zonder dwang kunnen zyn gekomen, ze zyn gemerkt, met de letters T. B.

Op Zondag, toen de Hr. Van der Nest, uit de kerk kwam, verwittigde men hem, dat drie Kaffers, gedurende den Zaturdag nacht zyne vee kraal, aan de Kaba weder hadden aangevallen, en een gedeelte van zyn vee hadden vervoerd. Eehter vernam hy ook, dat zyne Herders, zoodra de maan was opgekomen, hen hadden vervolgd, ingehaald, en het vee van voor betzelve den lagang van het bosch had bereikt, hadden hernomen. De roovers ontsnapten echter. Dezelfde kraal is weder den Isten dezer aangevallen, en de Heer Van der Nest, is thans verpligt meer mannen tot deszelver bewaking te gebruiken.

In een berigt ons van de Katrivier toegezonden, gedateerd 28 Augustus, zinspeelt de schryver op eenige onnauwkeurigheden, vervat in de extracten door ons onlangs uit brieven van dat oord medegedeeld. Hy verbetert dezelve op eene verpligtende wyze, als volgt:—

"Het was Veldkornet De Lange, van Winterberg, en niet Botha, die twee paarden heeft verloren. Rapport daarvan gedaan zynde, begaven zich vele der Policiedienaren op het spoor, vergezeld door twee knappe Soldaten der kaapsche Scherpschutters te paard. De grond was echter destyds zoo hard, dat noch de Policie noch de Soldaten, ofschoon zy blieven tot dat het donker wierd, deszelve verder konden nasporen, als tot de plaats van De Lange. Het spoor wierd gezegd vier dagen oud te zyn.

"Botha heeft vyf osen, niet koeijen (als gemeld in uw Journal van den 17 Augustus ll.) verloren. Doch het is er zoo ver van daan dat de Policiedienaars nutteloos zyn geweest, dat zy 14 dagen zyn uit geweest, en eindelyk het vee naby Wardens ouden post aan de Kei, hebben terug gekregen, zy zyn grootelyk door de Kaffers beleedigd geworden, en het is zeer waarschynlyk, dat Botha zyne ossen zonder de door hen aangewende poginges, nimmer zoude hebben terug bekomen. Het spoor was kronkelachtig en moeyelyk,—heen en weer,—over de hoogste bergen, over de Bonteboks-eas. De Fingoes hadden zich slechts veertien dagen met er woons te Brownlee neergezet; zy hebben 18 stuks vee, en niet 57, zoo keurdelyk opgegeven, verloren.

HET KAFFER-OPPERHOOFD SEYOLO.

Wy hebben een berigt ontvangen, uit het "afgestane grondgebied," gedateerd 29 dezer, bevattende de volgende belangryke aanmerkingen over de jongste geweldenaryen der Kaffers, naby Fort Peddie:—

"Niets van belang is alhier deze week voorgevallen en gevolglyk zal alles rustig blyven, tot dat de laatste gebeurtenis dit is geworden. Seyolo zegt, dat het vreemd is, dat men van hem het Fingo vee terug vordert, terwyl Umkye al het vee Quinquiss toebehoorende, in zyne kraal houdt. Seyolos volk en vee zyn alleen naar de bergen vertrokken, waardoor ongetwyfeld blykt.

1. Dat Seyolo vast heeft besloten het Koloniale Gouvernement te wederstaan, en de teruggave te weigeren.

2. Dat Macomo en Tyali hem ondersteunen en beschermen, en gevolglyk medepligtigen zyn.

"Byaldien deze opgaat aanuwkeurig zy is het hoog tyd dat de Gezaghebbers zorgvuldiglyk den tegenwoordigen staat van zaken in al deszelfs wendingen in overweging nemen. De Hr. T. Shepstone, (s Gouvernements Kaffer Tolk,) bevindt zich in dezen omtrek, hy is belast met eene boodschap van den Luitenant Gouverneur aan Umhala, (broeder van Seyolo) dien hy heeft verzocht te Wesleyville te komen; doch Zaturdag was hy nog niet opgedaagd, of hy na dien tyd is aangekomen, heb ik niet gehoord.

De Fingoes alhier bebouwen eene groote uitgestrektheid lands, en het schynt niet dat zy lust hebben te vertrekken. De aankondiging des verkoops van het Fingoe vee te Grahamstad, komt my vreemd voor. Vee is voor hen, en inderdaad voor byna allen in deze kolonie wonende, van het grootste aanbelang; en ik begryp niet hoe die menschen zonder hetzelve kunnen bestaan. Byaldien de Kaffers, veel vee bezittende, zich niet kunnen weerhouden van rooven en moorden om meer te krygen, kan men dan verwachten dat de Fingoes, als zy niets hebben om van te leven, zullen worden wederhouden dergelyke misdaden te plegen?

(Extracten uit onze Brieven van de Grenzen.)

"Graham's-stad, 24 Augustus 1837.

"Ik heb op dit oogenblik eenen Slagter gesproken die van eenen togt naar Sneeuwberg, om vee te koopen, is terug gekeerd—hy zegt dat voor het einde des jaars eene uitgestrektheid van 300 myien, onbewoond zal zyn. Plaatsen worden tegen den geringsten prys van de hand gezet en meestal voor goederen; voor de thans heerschende schrik, was eene verkocht geworden voor £750, waarop £300 waren afbetaald; de kooper, had echter van zynen koop berouw, en verbrak denzelven met opoffering der door hem kontant betaalde som. De redenen welke voor het wegtrekken worden opgegeven zyn de volgende: de Kaffers hebben de inwoners lager af geplunderd, in het vervolg zullen zy tot ons komen, het is dus beter voor ons weg te trekken, alvorens even als zy, geruineerd te worden—onze Apprentices zull

FRANKRYK.

(Private Correspondentie.)

Parys, 22 Mei 1837.

Niettegenstaande de gerachten welke in London in omloop zyn geweest, nopens het voornemen van Maarschalk Clausel, om zich in Spaansche dienst te begeven, en de toestemming van Mr. Thiers, by zyn laatste mondgesprek met den Koning Louis Philippe, geloof ik, dat de staatkunde van het Fransche Kabinet, ten opzigte dier kwestie, onveranderd blyft. Wat het mondgesprek van Mr. Thiers met zynen Vorst betreft, gelooft men dat dezelve van eene private gesaardheid is geweest, en betrekking heeft gehad op eenige personeele schikkingen, in verband staande met zyne aanstaande reis naar Italie. Eenigen gaan zoo ver om te beweren, dat het gezantschap naar Napels, het onderwerp des gespreks kan geweest zyn.—Times, 25 Mei.

Het wordt rond gefluisterd dat de Hertog van Orleans incognito naar Metz zal vertrekken, om aldaar in het geheim, de Prinses, zyne bruid, te ontmoeten, opdat hunne eerste ontmoeting geen plaats mogte vinden te Fontainebleau. De Prins zal in het geheim geintroduceerd worden aan de moeder der Prinses, met hen dineren en vervolgens dadelyk naar Parys terug keeren. Het Corps Diplomatique (behalve de Pruissische Minister en zyne Echtgenoote) zullen tot die plegtigheid niet worden uitgenodigd, welke als privaat beschouwd wordt, maar natuurlyk verzocht worden op de groote feesten welke vervolgens zullen plaats vinden te Fontainebleau, Versailles en Parys.—Ibid.

SPANJE.

De verovering van Irun gisteren, is heden opgevolgd geworden door eene even belangryke en meer voldoende, daar dezelve geen verlies van leven heeft gekost. De Stad en Vesting van Fontarabia, na een bombardement gedurende het grootste gedeelte van den dag van gisteren, met het geschut der Britsche Stoombooten de Phœnix en Salamander, hebben zich heden onvoorwaardelyk overgegeven. Het garnisoen omtrent 300 man legden hunne wapenen neder en wierden krygsgevangen gemaakt. In de Vesting vond men zeven stukken geschut en leeftogt voor eene maand. De Stad zelve was in eenen sterken staat van verdediging, en kon de belegerende armee groot verlies hebben berokkend, had het garnisoen besloten, zich staande te houden, hetgeen het zeker zoude gedaan hebben, waren de verovering van Irun gekenschetst geworden door eenige onnodige vergieting van bloed of mishandeling der gevangenen; want, voor de overgaal, verzocht de Gouverneur verlof eenen officier naar Irun te zenden, om te gaan zien wat aldaar had plaats gevonden, en niet eerder dan na zyne terugkomst en na de menschlievende behandeling vernomen te hebben, door het garnisoen en de inwoners van Irun, ondervonden, was het, dat het garnisoen van Fontarabia zich overgaf.

Toen ik Fontarabia heden te 3 uren verliet, stond het Legioen op het punt naar Oyarzum terug te keeren, op deszelfs terugtog naar de regter positie, het Spaansche garnisoen en het bataillon Britsche Mariniers in Fontarabia latende.—Ibid.

TO CORRESPONDENTS.

We have received several anonymous communications pro and con, respecting the deeply to be lamented differences among the Members of the Dutch Reformed Community; but as the writers thereof seem to have lost sight of due decorum, and instead of being dispassionate, attack private character, tending still further to widen the breach, we must decline inserting them.

THE

ZUID-AFRIKAAN.

CAPE TOWN, SEPTEMBER 8, 1837.

COMMITTEE ON ABORIGINES, CAPE OF GOOD HOPE, 1837.

Through the kindness of a friend we have been indulged with a perusal of the last Minutes of Proceedings before the Committee of the Honorable House of Commons on Aborigines, from which we give such extracts as the limited space of time for running over their contents allowed us. The Committee resumed its labors on the 27th February last, and the evidence we have seen reaches to the 21st of April. By a resolution of the Committee, it had been resolved, that nothing farther should be laid before it but what individuals, who considered their testimony had been impugned, thought would exculpate them. The persons examined respecting the Cape were Mr. George Greig, Mr. Saxe Bannister, Mr. Guybon Atherstone, Colonel Wade, the Rev. Dr. Philip, and the Rev. Stephen Kay. The Minutes are comprised in sixteen numbers, several of which exclusively appertain to other Colonies, or contain documentary evidence and papers referred to by the several witnesses. It was understood that the Committee had closed its viva-voce examinations, and would immediately proceed to frame its Report, from which we must confess, we expect neither satisfaction or justice. The constitution of the Select Committee itself, the temper with which the evidence has all along been taken, the palpable bias of the majority against the Colonists, and the absence of all real, historical testimony recorded before this tribunal render a fair verdict or correct judgment next to impossible. We think the Committee has neglected its duty in not summoning more witnesses from the Colony—men of practical experience and good local information,—and we think the Colonists have little good to anticipate from its operations, when they observe that the Committee Room has been made the arena for angry recrimination, jesuitical cunning, and but-too-successful political ambition. Until a commission shall have made its examination on the spot, and carefully sifted the information now collecting under the orders of the Colonial Government, by Mr. Donald Moodie, we despair of any substantial redress of wrongs and injuries, which would be sufficient to drive any less peaceable community than ours to perfect desperation. In making the above remarks, it is but fair to state, that the Colonists are much indebted to Mr. Bagshaw, one of the Members of the Committee, whose cross-examination elicited much information, as well as to Colonel Wade, an indefatigable witness, who has nobly served the cause, and done his utmost to unmask falsehood and hypocrisy, cloaked under the most saintly garb and sacred seeming.

Examination 27th February, 1837.

Mr. Greig is asked, will you be good enough to state what passages there are in the evidence which appear to you to cast unjust reflections upon individuals, or bodies of individuals?—I can speak but cursorily; at present I remember the case of Erasmus, spoken to by Captain Stockenstrom. I was present at Graham's Town when the examination of witnesses went on respecting the truth of that case, and I remember that the greater part of the allegations before this Committee were disproved—upon the evidence of the persons said at that time to have been present on the Commando. From the evidence that I heard at Graham's Town, the impression on my mind was, that it was altogether at variance with that which had been given here—directly contradictory of it—(by Capt. Stockenstrom).

Examination 14th March, 1837.

Saxe Bannister recommends several new arrangements for the protection of the Aborigines in the Colonies; and in carrying out his ideas of his plan he makes several remarks on the Cape:—

"The vindication of justice in the late Caffer case is an accident attributable to peculiar circumstances."—"At the Cape of Good Hope, is a direction quite distinct from Cafferland, robberies of the natives cattle, intrusion upon their land, kidnapping their children for slaves! and murdering the people by the Boers, are going on now, as these things have been going on for many years, unchecked. The crimes committed there on the natives are very numerous, and excited sanghinary revenge on the part of the native tribes.—At this very moment frightful scenes are taking place in South Africa, which are but the continuation and complement of the crimes denounced to the Cape Governor and to the Secretary of State for the Colonies for years past."

Examination 17th March, 1837.

Mr. Guybon Atherstone.—In defence of his Affidavits (that the letters under the signature of Tzatzoe were written under his dictation but by the Rev. Mr. Brownlee, and that Tzatzoe had interpreted the statement of a Caffer, that the Rev. Mr. Read urged the late war, which affidavits had been impugned by Jan Tzatzoe), Atherstone states he cannot change the opinions on which those affidavits were formed.

Colonel T. F. Wade presents the affidavit of Majeico, the Interpreter referred to in Mr. Atherstone's affidavit, substantiating Mr. A.'s deposition, which affidavit is certified as true by 'Pato,' he being present at the time referred to in the affidavit.—The Colonel then refers to several matters in which he considers himself aggrieved;—1. the reception of opinions and comments upon the Vagrant Law of Dr. Philip by the Commons, which had been denied him by the Committee to make;—2. the suppression of documents relative thereto, which the Committee had given Dr. P. an opportunity to peruse;—3. the suppression of an important passage in a letter placed by Dr. Philip upon the Minutes of the Committee, addressed by him to the Governor, on the 13th March, 1834, the original of which Colonel Wade laid before the Committee, reading the suppressed paragraphs;—and 3, the discrepancy between the assertion of Captain Fawcett, that Tzatzoe was invited by Dr. Philip to accompany him to England, and Tzatzoe's denial of the fact.

Examination 21st March.

The Rev. Dr. Philip excuses himself for the omission, in the letter to Sir B. D'Urban of the 13th March, 1834, that wishing to put the Committee in possession of his views on the Commando and patrolling system only, that the passage in question was left out, not being in the scope of his intentions in his communications to the Committee,—that the omission was not designed by him, the identical copy had been made at the Cape of Good Hope—he had had differences with the Wesleyans—he had no motive for its suppression except that of delicacy towards another religious body.—When it was copying by the person he employed, it occurred to him he might die, he did not know into whose hands these documents might fall—did not wish that any papers of his should contain reflections upon the Wesleyans or any other body (exquisite Jesuit!)—did not write to the Governor to recal that paragraph—considered it a private confidential communication,* but cannot venture to say Sir Benjamin considered it in the same light: Was it not a letter addressed to Sir Benjamin D'Urban, and not to His Excellency the Governor? Yes, it was; and it was delivered to him at his own house,† not the Council office.

The Rev. S. Kay reads a long article on the subject of his attack upon the Commandos under Major Dundas and Colonel Somerset, which dispersed the Fetcani tribes when about to overwhelm and destroy Hintza in 1828, with copious extracts from his own veritable work—comments upon the evidence of several witnesses residents on the Frontier, who had given testimony regarding the natural character of the Caffers, remarks upon the treatment of the Caffer Chiefs—all of which is too lengthy for our columns, and we therefore refer the Reader to the Evidence (No. 6) itself, wherein, no doubt, he will find most delectable entertainment.

Examination 22d March, 1837.

The Rev. S. Kay—Has suggestions to make as to measures to secure the protection, civilization, and advancement in knowledge and religion to the natives of South Africa. Is not aware that any of his suggestions have been acted upon (strict observer of events). They are not for missionary Societies, but for Government (extensive politician). Has not read the whole of Captain Gardiner's evidence on the Zoolahs. Does not know that the emigrant farmers had been attacked, and some murdered. Is not aware that English settlers are leaving for fear of the Caffers. Is not informed that any estates had been offered for sale, &c. (intelligent witness!). Mr. Kay then reads his Memoranda, to which we must also refer our readers:—Never heard or saw Mr. Laing's speech at the annual meeting of the Missionary Society, held at Graham's Town 30th August, 1836. Witness knows of no Commando consisting exclusively of English settlers, proceeding into the Caffer territory on Commando, either to make reprisal or otherwise. Can you call to your recollection any Commando of which the English settlers formed a part, having ever entered Caffer land for the purposes of aggression?—What (says this unwilling yet hard pressed evidence), what am I to understand by the term aggression? does it refer to territory or to cattle?—(Sir George Grey)—Were not they all for the purposes of recovering cattle which had been lost?—I am not aware of any for the purpose of mere aggression, replies this discreet gentleman.

Examination 21st April, 1837.

The Rev. Stephen Kay.—References to Major Dundas' attack on the Fetcani, and the influence of Missionaries on the Caffers. He is there asked several questions to get out the fact whether English settlers ever went on Commando; and after evading the subject in all its possible forms, he is constrained to admit the following reply, to the imperative and evidently somewhat importunate demands—"Then you do not know of any of the British settlers of Albany having ever formed a part of a Commando sent directly against the Caffers?"—"I am not prepared to answer positively; I cannot call to mind any thing of the kind sent during my residence there" (from June, 1820, to February, 1831. Is it not a notorious fact, which every person acquainted with the Colony is aware of, that they never did form part of any Commando?) I think I stated before what constitutes in my humble opinion an answer to that question. I said I was not aware of the British settlers having ever carried on any thing like an aggressive warfare against the Caffers; and if I mistake not, you put that question explicitly and pointedly the last day I was examined.

Lieutenant-Colonel Wade—Refers to statements of Mr. Kay regarding the expulsion of Macomo in 1819 (1829), which was directly contrary to fact; and on the credibility and importance of the testimonies of Messrs. Shrewsbury and Boyes over his own.

"Are there any observations you wish to make with respect to the evidence given by Dr. Philip relative to his letters to Sir Benjamin D'Urban?—I wish to observe, that whereas it is stated by Dr. Philip, in answer to question 302 (21st March, 1837), that it was a letter addressed to 'Sir Benjamin D'Urban,' and not 'to His Excellency the Governor;' the fact is, that the original document which I now produce, was addressed to 'His Excellency Sir Benjamin D'Urban, the Governor'—'the question is, 'was it not a letter addressed to Sir Benjamin D'Urban, and not to His Excellency the Governor?'—the answer is, 'Yes it was;' and the letter, in fact, is addressed to 'His Excellency Sir Benjamin D'Urban, Governor'—'I make no farther comment on that'——' Do you consider your conduct as Acting Governor is affected by it (the letter in question?)—Yes, I conceive it is.' The suppressed passage is this—'There is perhaps another reason,' &c.* Now I say, that does impute to several Governors of that Colony, that the tribes alluded to of Pato and Kama were left unmolested, because they were under the protection of the Wesleyan Missionaries, and that the Wesleyan Missionaries were supporters of the system which Dr. Philip is condemning. Upon that subject I beg to say distinctly, that the tribes in question were left unmolested, not because they were supported by any Missionaries who were in favor or against the system employed by the Government of that Colony, but, as Dr. Philip has said in the previous part of this letter, on account of their good conduct; and I must add, that I conceive that conduct was principally, indeed I would say altogether, attributable to the judicious behaviour of the Wesleyan Missionaries in regard to the natives."——"Will you state what was the commencement of the letter in question?"—"May it please Your Excellency." After this follows considerable evidence with respect to an interference in the affairs of the Griquas, and the deposition of one of their Chiefs, who had become obnoxious to Dr. Philip, which interference and deposition was recommended to Colonel Wade by Dr. P.; and the last number (9) concludes with several interesting observations on the Vagrant Law.

The numbers containing the 'Papers,' &c. are chiefly filled with the observations of the District Functionaries on the Petition of Dr. Philip relating to the proposed Vagrant Law, all of which are interesting and important—the opinions of the Judges and Attorney General on the same subject, and Dr. Philip's views of the propriety of Colonial intervention with the political affairs of the Griquas, where he has been so long practising his crooked policy. There is also a Statement of Expenditure included in the Commissariat accounts of the Colony, which states the expences of the Caffer War, from January 1835 to July 1836, at £241,884, 14s. 8¾d.!—If we add the amount of the losses sustained to the inhabitants by the Invasion of £286,625, 4s. 9d., and say about £60,000 for Commissariat purposes for August, September, and October, 1836, we shall have the small sum of £600,000 as the consequences!!!—!!!

* They have always had the Wesleyan Missionaries to defend them. Macomo, on the other hand, has not been so fortunately circumstanced. The Caffer mission on the Kat River was broken up by that Chief's ejection from that country, before any considerable impression was made upon himself or his people in favor of Christianity, and it has ever since been in such a state of insecurity, embarrassment, and apprehension, that there has been no encouragement for a Missionary to settle with him so as to do any permanent good to himself or his people. Botman and Eno have never had any Missionaries with them. I have taken the liberty of enclosing a translation and a copy of a letter from the Caffer Chief Tzatzoe ——." The following paragraph is then suppressed in the copy the Rev. Dr. laid before the Committee:—"There is perhaps another reason which may be noticed in passing by your Excellency's information, to account for the favor shown to the Chiefs at the Wesleyan Stations in Cafferland; the Wesleyan Missionaries have always been the supporters of Colonel Somerset, and they have always been in the habit of praising him, and depending all his Commandos more than the Missionaries of other Societies."

Our Cotemporary of the Advertiser, notwithstanding his eulogy of the system introduced by his idol the Lieutenant Governor, and whose Avatar he proclaimed with the flourish, that "the Colonists may, however, rest assured, that we have seen the last of our Caffer wars;—we advise our friends, the Public, to prepare themselves for PEACE and PLENTY," has been forced, doubtless, from official intelligence, and that from the best informed quarter, at last to admit that the golden prospects of 'unparalleled tranquillity,' and 'profound peace,' which the new regime was to bring along with it, have not only been unrealized, but that the most serious apprehensions are at this moment entertained by the Local Government on the Frontier of immediate and most extensive hostilities, after only seven months' trial of the absurd system of treaties with a nation of savages, whose nature was not unknown to the individual who has had the hardihood to attempt the experiment in spite of his prior experience, and in the very face of his own recorded convictions to the contrary.

The Editor of the Advertiser, in order to 'slur' over the infraction of the great Caffer Treaty, in the attack upon the Fingoes at Fort Peddie, in the first place, has attempted to show that the infringement was only that of a hot-headed young man, the petty Captain Seyolo, and stated his belief that the other Chiefs, especially of the T'Slambie tribe, were most anxious to see the mischiefs repaired, so that 'war on the Caffer nation should be averted; subsequent events, however, have proved that all his expectations of the success of His Honor's 'animadverting' process on Seyolo has failed, and that not only has Seyolo committed a most flagrant and open breach of the most solemn engagement, made in the name of the Caffer nation, commenced in plunder and consummated in blood, but that he has positively refused to account for it, even daring His Honor to risk further enquiry.

The expectations of His Honor and the Editor not having fallen out as they idly hoped, the latter puts forth a Manifesto in his paper of the 2d instant, wherein (swallowing all he had before asserted) he states, that, 1st, The attack upon the Fingoes were made by predatory bands of Caffers; 2, That Macomo had exerted his influence in checking these violences; 3, That the conduct of several of the Chiefs (his named) have been satisfactory; 4, And he acknowledges, although the proceedings of the chiefs of T'slambie's tribe in the affair of Seyolo have not yet given satisfaction to the Lieutenant-Governor—still the Fingoes cannot remain with safety in their present position; and then he takes up certain extravagant positions with regard to the peculiar situation of these unfortunate people, thus jeopardized, who, not having had the advantage of being the SLAVES of free-born Britons! are of course unworthy his sympathy or consideration, however deep the iron chains of bondage may have entered sheir souls.

Having unwillingly acknowledged the attack upon the Fingoes contrary to the very spirit of the Treaty, Mr Fairbairn then tries with equal want of honesty to fix the blame upon the Governor, for placing that people in such an exposed position, and then to excuse the conduct of His Honor on the consequence of the embarrassed state in which he is situated by the unwearied opposition made to his measures: to defend His Excellency after all we have said upon

* On the 21st April the Dr. states—he 'did not intend the letter to be private'—'there was no private communication between the Governor and me at all."

Gas and Carbonic, Sulphuric, and Muriatic Acids, in combination with Soda, Magnesia, and Lime.

Harrowgate Water contains Nitrogen, Carbonic Acid, and Sulphuretted Hydrogen Gasses, with Carbonate of Magnesia, Carbonate of Lime, Sulphat of Magnesia, Muriate of Soda, Muriate of Magnesia, and Muriate of Lime: therefore, we may assume that Stellenbosch and Harrowgate Waters contain the same ingredients. The proportions of the ingredients, it was thought by the Gentlemen present, could not be given until the Spring was properly protected from the great quantity of rain water which is constantly running into it, as at present the strength of the water is constantly varying.

I think that it would be desirable to have a meeting in Cape Town, of the Medical Men, for the purpose of enabling them to analyze the water for themselves.

I remain, Sir,
Your most obedient humble Servant,
L. POWELL.

Since writing the above Letter I have received Sir JOHN WYLDE's permission to make public.

Sir John Wylde had a meeting of the Medical Men of Cape Town at his Chambers, when Dr. Murray, Dr. Abercrombie, Dr. Liesching, Mr. Poleman, and Mr. Kunhardt, being present, it was unanimously agreed, that the Water of the Sulphurous Spring at Stellenbosch contained the above mentioned ingredients—shewing it to be the same as Harrowgate Water. As it was remarked by a Gentleman present, that the Water was not so strong as Harrowgate Water, I have made an extract from an old work on Mineral Waters by Dr. Short, by which it will be shewn, that the Harrowgate Water was in just the same state before it was properly protected. Speaking of the Sulphurous Spring, he says—

"Here are, and were about twenty years ago, three Springs close together, very low and scarce of water, that all of them did not afford sufficient water for drinking and bathing. Wherefore, for the greater convenience of the drinkers, I thought it convenient to take up the uppermost Spring, which is weakest and slowest of them, and made a large bason, to contain several hogsheads of water, and covered it with a large stone to preserve it from the sun and rain-water; and for a week together we rammed its sides with clay to prevent other Springs from getting in. The event answered expectation; for we had a fresh Spring of much better and stronger Water, which afforded us as much in one hour now, as it did in twenty-four before, more loaded with the minerals than ever, and so of greater efficacy for either bathing or drinking."

As to the medical properties of Sulphurous Springs, I think a short extract from the Cyclopedia of Pratical Medicine will, perhaps, give as good a general idea of the medical properties of Sulphurous Springs as we can have.

Extract from the Cyclopedia of Practical Medicine:—"Sulphurous Mineral Waters have been always highly esteemed on account of their medicinal properties. When employed as a bath, they are particularly efficacious in herpectic eruptions on the skin. Indeed, in deseases of the skin in general, and in cases of old callous fistulous ulcers, which have resisted medical treatment, they have been frequently found of immense benefit. When taken internally, they are found to be stimulatory. They have been often recommended as useful in cases of want of appetite and heartburn. They have been considered as highly valuable in cases of amenorrhœa, and in deseases of the breast. They have been reckoned capable of even dissipating those tubercles in the lungs which are the usual forerunners of consumption; and many cases are upon record, in which they have been of undoubted utility in the early stages of that deplorable desease."

TO THE EDITOR OF "DE ZUID-AFRIKAAN."

THE PROPOSED ROAD ACROSS THE CAPE FLATS.

Having seen in the Zuid Afrikaan that a Public Meeting will be held on the 16th September next, for the purpose of taking into consideration measures for the construction of said Road, and as it is necessary prior to meeting to form some plan, I have thought proper to offer the following to my fellow colonists as my views on that subject.

Should a Company be formed, I would recommend three head points:—

1. Do not construct a partial road, but, if possible, one useful to all Districts.

2. Keep that Company as private as possible, without the interference of Government.

3. Employ a person of known probity and honesty under your own administration, instead of an Engineer, whereby you will not only be at liberty to act at pleasure, but save great expenses.

Taking these three points into consideration, I am of opinion, that the road ought to lead from Salt River over the so-called Hamman's Hoogte to Kuils River; beyond the farm Tygervalley, a branch or side-road must turn out from the main road, between the farm of Mr. L. Neethling and the farm Stickland; from Kuils River the road must divide in two branches; one leading towards Bottelary, and the other pass, Saxenburg, to near the farm of Mr. P. van der Byl, where it ought again to divide, one to lead to Stellenbosch, and the other to the best spot where a bridge can be erected over the Eerste River. According to this plan the road may be useful for all the country districts.

I would moreover recommend not to use too many laborers, horses, and carriages, as considerably tending to increase the expenses, and which at the expiration of the apprenticeship will deprive agriculturists of hands; but a number should be employed so as to complete the work in three years, which would be most advantageous, and cost about £15,500, including the erection of bridges, one across the Eerste River, one near Stellenbosch, over the so-called Steenen Drift, and another over the Kuils River.

Should the Shares be fixed at £20, payable in two years, in four instalments, many will be able to take Shares.

Should the above prove acceptable it will be gratifying to
J. P. V.

CAFFER DEPREDATIONS.

The Fingoes who have been driven from the Mancanzana by the Caffers, in despite of their treaty, are still in the neighbourhood of Graham's Town. They have refused, however, to sell their cattle, as advertised, by order of the Lieutenant-Governor, and are evidently waiting to see what steps will be taken by their Protectors to redress the outrage which has been committed upon them. It is a fact which must not be lost sight of, that every Caffer tribe, except that under Pato, Kama, and Cobus, which has received a share of the neutral territory on the tenure of good behaviour, has been concerned in this violence,—thus in a letter now before us, from the immediate border, dated 22d inst., the writer says,—

"We received a report on Saturday that Eno's and Gaika's Caffers had attacked the Fingoes about the Chunie, * * * The Fingoes, however, had not, to use the Caffer phrase, been finished, but were to be attacked again very soon. * * * The Caffer who brought this news started from the Beka on (I think) Wednesday last, to fetch his wife at the Xabeca River, near Fort Willshire, on the eastern bank of the Keiskamma (the same stream on which the Governor halted for the night on the first day's invasion of Cafferland, in April, 1835), and he returned on Friday evening, the 18th instant. When this man arrived at the Xabeca, he found that all the men were absent, but after waiting one day they returned, and from them he learned the particulars stated above."

It remains now to be seen whether we are to look on and see the Fingoes finished, and whether the British power is to be openly defied, in order to gloss over or conceal the defects of a system, which is rapidly hurrying the colony to irretrieveable ruin.

From a letter, dated Glen Lynden, 20th August, we make the following extract:—

"On Tuesday, the 15th inst., the Caffers stole from field-cornet Van der Nest's farm, Bush Fountain, four of his best oxen, which he had purchased only a few weeks before for Rds. 140. The next day a party of farmers followed the traces of the stolen animals nearly to Mr. Wentzel's farm, on the lower part of the Kowie River. Here, from the jaded state of their horses, the pursuit was given up, and the robbers (three in number) got clear off with the booty. About the same time two horses, one belonging to the Revd. Mr. Welsh, and the other to Christian Vouche, disappeared, and, though every endeavour has been used to find them, it has been entirely fruitless."

On Friday last, ten oxen were found in one of the deepest and most sequestered parts of the Kowie Forest, and where it is impossible they could have got unless driven by force. They are branded with the letters T. B.

On Sunday, when Mr. Van der Nest returned home from church, he received information that three Caffers had, during the Saturday night, again attacked his cattle kraal at the Kaba, and had driven away part of his cattle. He was, however, informed that his herds had gone off, as soon as the moon rose in pursuit, and had overtaken and recovered the cattle just before reaching the cover of the forest. The robbers, however, made their escape. This same kraal was also attacked on the 1st instant, and Mr. Van der Nest is now obliged to send some more men there to protect it.

In a communication addressed to us from the Kat River, under date 28th Aug., the writer adverts to some inaccuracies which has appeared in the extracts lately published by us of letters received from that quarter. He obligingly corrects these statements as follows:—

"It was field-cornet De Lange, of Winterberg, and not Botha, that lost two horses. On receiving a report of this, several of the police went off at once, accompanied by two intelligent soldiers of the Cape Mounted Rifles. The ground, however, was so very hard at the time that neither the police nor soldiers, although they remained out till dark, could trace them beyond the place of De Lange, and they accordingly gave it over. The spoor was stated to be four days old.

"Botha lost five oxen, not cows, (as stated in our Journal of the 7th Aug). But so far from the police bring useless, the men employed remained out 14 days, and ultimately recovered the cattle near Warden's old post on the Kei. They were grossly insulted by the Caffers, but it is most probable that Botha would never have recovered his oxen but for their exertions. The spoor was most tortuous and difficult,—backwards and forwards,—over the highest hills,—across the Bontebock, &c. The Fingoes at Brownlee had resided there only a fortnight, and that without permission; they lost 18 head of cattle, and not 57, as erroneously stated."

THE CAFFER CHIEF SEYOLO.

We have before us a communication from the "ceded territory," dated 29th inst., which contains the following important remarks on the recent outrages committed by the Caffers near Fort Peddie:—

"Nothing of importance has transpired here this week, and of course all will remain quiet enough until the last business has got old. Seyolo says it is strange that he should be required to give up the Fingoe cattle, when Umkye has got in his kraal all those belonging to Quinquise. Seyolo's people and cattle are all gone into the mountains,* which proves, beyond a doubt, the following:—

1st. That Seyolo is determined to resist the colonial government, and to refuse the demand of restitution.

2d. That Macomo and Tyali both give him countenance and protection, and are consequently partakers of his guilt.

"Now, if these points be correct, it is high time for the authorities to look carefully at the present state of affairs in all their bearings. Mr. T. Shepstone (the Government Caffer interpreter) is in this neighbourhood, charged with a message from the Lieutenant Governor to Umhala (brother to Seyolo), whom he requested to attend at Wesleyville; but up to Saturday he had not made his appearance. Whether he has arrived since I have not heard.

The Fingoes here are cultivating land to a large extent, and it does not appear that they wish to remove. The notice of the sale of the Fingoes' cattle at Graham's Town appears to me as an extraordinary circumstance. Cattle with them, and indeed with almost every person living in this colony, are of the first importance; and I do not understand how these people will be able to do without them. If the Caffers, who have plenty of cattle, cannot be restrained from stealing and murdering to obtain more, can it be expected that the Fingoes, when they have nothing to depend on, will be kept from the commission of these crimes?

* No doubt Seyolo's absence will be made to serve as an excuse for the other chiefs not punishing him,—but why did they not, when he was collecting his cattle and spoil to proceed to the mountains, call him to account?—(ED.)

Extracts from English Papers.

ROME, May 6.—Great anxiety prevails here as to the result of the struggle now going on in the Peninsula, and it is generally hoped that the next operation of the Carlist troops will be crowned with success. The partisans of Don Carlos, who maintain a regular communication with Spain, pretend that this success is beyond doubt, and that Don Carlos will be recognised by several of the European Powers as soon as he has effected an onward movement. The Cardinal Secretary of State, Lambruschini, returned from the country yesterday, and has resumed his official functions. It is to be hoped that the appearance of fine weather will restore him to perfect health. Accounts from Naples received to day remove all doubt as to the re-appearance of the cholera at that capital. The duration of the quarantine has been increased at Leghorn upon all vessels coming from Naples.—Augsburg Gazette.

The following letter of the 12th instant from Madrid is from the Messager:—'A great scandal took place yesterday in the Cortes, of which the Ministry were the first to set the example. The secret sitting relative to the troubles of Catalonia was a continued tissue of irritating discussions and angry provocations. Seven deputies from Barcelona rose with so much energy against the conduct of the Minister Calatrava and Mendizabal, that the latter actually shed tears with rage. Six duels are announced for to-morrow between Ministers and deputies. M. Calatrava, on being summoned to quit a post which, for betraying the confidence reposed in him, he was unworthy to fill, replied with incredible sang froid—'I will not quit the Ministry until I have subdued revolt and opposition.' This reply was followed by a frightful tumult. M. Roveralta, in his exasperation, was wanting in respect to the authority of the President. In spite of repeated calls to order from the chair, that Deputy continued to apply to M. Calatrava the epithets of venal and perjured soul; had he not been held, it is probable he would have proceeded to blows. All the corps de garde are doubled, and seven battalions of the National Guards are called out. The public mind is in the utmost agitation. The movement party display the greatest activity, and those who direct it neglect no means to accomplish the defeat of their adversaries."—Simes, May 23.

(From a Correspondent.)

MALTA, April 2. Letters have been received from the town of Hax (in the south of the regency of Tunis), which describe, on the report of travellers, the position of things in Constantine and its neighbourhood to be much altered since the ill-fated expedition of Marshal Clausel against that city. Confident of their strength, the tribes, both Arab and Berebber, forming two parties in the state under the old Government, and now but one, loudly vaunt their intention to support the Bey Achmet (whom they term Pasha), to the effect of empowering him to treat for peace directly with France, if the Government of Louis Phillippe be so disposed; protesting, at the same time, against any overtures or any confidence being reposed in the local authorities of France at Algiers, having, as they declare, been deceived in every instance wherein they trusted to French honour through French delegates. They are well informed throughout the interior of the mighty preparations making in France for the conquest of the city and province of Constantine, for the French themselves have taken care to acquaint them that all is in readiness for embarcation in Europe, waiting only the return of fine weather; and, notwithstanding the exaggerated account of the force to be employed, which some report at 100,000 men, but which is ridiculed among the more intelligent classes of society, still such are the enthusiasm and confidence which prevail, that should any one harbour a doubt, of ultimate success at least, he is too prudent to disclose a thought which does not chime in with the sentiments of those who breath always the same hostility against their invaders. This spirit it is known the Bey, and, in general, the wealthy part of the community, would gladly endeavour to repress for their own sakes, if consistent with the safety of the country: and, notwithstanding the fortifications of Constantine have been repaired and are being strengthened daily, the boon of peace, craved from the first in vain, is still courted by the leading men and elders of the people. The Bey, however, when informed of the assemblage of the new army on the French coast, and of the immense materiel with which it is provided, sent libreas or proclaimers throughout the desert as well as the mountains, who announced "the approach of the new Infidel army, calling upon every true believer to repair to his camp and defend the country where it is best defensible—in the gorges of the Atlas, which, once possessed by the enemy, would place the tribes of the interior at his mercy."

The effect of this proclamation, as stated, was the assemblage of an auxiliary force, chiefly cavalry, of about 30,000, who collected from remote parts under the walls of Constantine and were to be followed by a greater number of warriors as soon as it should be known that the fleet had sailed from France through their friends in Algiers and Tunis, with whom the correspondence is extremely active. But the expedition having been delayed, an agricultural people like the Africans, to whom the Bey could only promise an equal share of booty when it should be obtained by their valour and co-operation, could not afford to keep the field long at their own cost, and by degrees the greater part of these men returned to their homes, after the ceremony of swearing upon the Koran "to be united among themselves, and to be in readiness at the earliest notice to join the standards of their respective marabouts, and march to the assistance of the Bey." Even Alid al Kadar, although a jealous emulation exists between these two chiefs, sent deputies to announce his readiness "to fight in the cause of God at Constantine as well as Tlemecen, provided the French should break up their camp on the Tafna, where their army had been half reduced by sickness and exposure."

The garrison of Constantine is reported to consist but of 2000 men, properly trained, of whom the chief are negroes; but many, probably old, cannon having been mounted, and some men trained to the practice of artillery having joined from Tunis, the city, it is figuratively described, is ten times better provided for defence than when attacked by Clausel; added to which, in case of invasion again, the plan being to distract and harass the French on their march, and by employing a large force to operate on the line of communication with Bona, it is conceived by the Bey that if he cannot prevent a repetition of the assault, yet he can retard the march of his enemies many days in the mountains, and cut off their convoys at least, and at last, while falling back upon the city, he can augment the garrison at pleasure, still keeping the field with his followers, and still increasing in strength by the junction of the auxiliary tribes. Thus resolved, he is said to have scared away the shadow of French authority at Guelma, and to have assigned to particular tribes the task of defending or disputing the banks of the Tomef and the Mesoug, and the passes of Shouma and Al Aiba. Constantine, moreover, is said to be well provisioned with corn, oil, and dates enough for the subsistence of its defenders many months, should the French be able to invest it entirely, which must depend upon the strength of their army, and their ability to form and defend an intrenched camp on the heights of Mantsoure.—Times, May 23.

VENEZUELA.—We have received journals from Caraccas to the middle of April last, but they contain little intelligence of interest which has not already reached us through other channels. The only news of any importance which they bring is an account of a commotion at Alto Orinoco and Urbana, in the province of Guayana, excited by a Colonel Farfan. Though his followers are said to be few, as there was no force in that quarter to oppose the insurgents, they had committed considerable ravages, and invaded the province of Apure. On the 22d of March the Congress authorized the Executive to call into active service 2,000 melitia, to be employed against the rebels. General Paez, on being requested again to take the field in defence of the republic, at once accepted the command, and proceeded to act with his usual energy. It may, therefore, be presumed that this insurrection has been speedily suppressed. The Vice-President Soublette, has appointed Senor Santos Michelena Minister for Foreign Affairs and Finance.—Times, May 23.

If the Smyrna journal is to be credited, Mehemet Alli met with a serious defeat in Arabia. The General-in Chief of the army and four individuals alone returned to Cairo; all the rest had been made prisoners. In consequence of this event, the half of the Egyptian troops at present in Syria, had received orders to march for Egypt, where the Pasha is preparing a formidable expedition against Arabia. Ibrahim Pasha will, according to all appearances, undertake the command of those forces.—Times, May 23.

ACCOUNT OF A MAN WHO SUBMITTED TO BE BURRIED ALIVE FOR A MONTH, AND WAS DUG OUT ALIVE AT THE EXPIRATION OF THAT PERIOD.

I have just witnessed a singular circumstance, of which I had heard during our stay at this place, but said nothing about it before, the time for its accomplishment not being completed; this morning, however, the full month was over, and a man who had been buried all that time, on the bank of a tank near our camp, was dug out alive, in the presence of Easu Lal, one of the ministers of the Muharawul of Jaisulmer, on whose account this singular individual was voluntarily interred a month ago. He is a youngish man, about 30 years of age, and his native village is within five kos of Kurnaul; but he generally travels about the country to Ajmeer, Kotah, Endor, &c, and allows himself to be buried for weeks or months, by any person who will pay him handsomely for the same. In the present instance the Rawul put this singular body in requisition, under the hope of obtaining an heir to his throne, and whether the remedy is efficacious or not, it certainly deserves to be known.

The man is said, by long practice, to have acquired the art of holding his breath by shutting the mouth, and stopping the interior opening of the nostrils with the tongue; he also abstains from solid food for some days previous to his interment, so that he may not be inconvenienced by the contents of his stomach, while pent up in his narrow grave; and, moreover, he is sewn up in a bag of cloth, and the cell is lined with masonry, and floored with cloth, that the white ants and other insects may not be easily able to molest him. The place in which he was buried at Jaisulmer is a small building, about 12 feet by 8 feet, built of stone; and in the floor was a hole about three feet long, and two and a-half feet wide, and the same depth, or perhaps a yard deep, in which he was placed in a sitting posture, sewed up in his shroud, with his feet turned inwards towards the stomach and his hands also pointed inwards towards the chest. Two heavy slabs of stone, five or six feet long, several inches thick, and broad enough to cover the mouth of the grave, so that he could not escape, were then placed over him, and I believe a little earth was plastered over the whole, so as to make the surface of the grave smooth and compact. The door of the house was also built up, and people placed outside, that no tricks might be played nor deception practised. At the expiration of a full month, that is to say, this morning, the walling up of the door was broken, and the buried man dug out of the grave, Trevelyan's moonshee only running there in time to see the ripping open of the bag in which the man had been enclosed. He was taken out in a perfectly senseless state, his eyes closed, his hands cramped and powerless; his stomach shrunk very much; and his teeth jammed so fast together, that they were forced to open his mouth with an iron intrument to pour a little water down his throat. He gradually recovered his senses, and the use of his limbs, and when we went to see him he was setting up, supported by two men, and conversed with us in a low, gentle tone of voice, saying, "that we might bury him again for a twelvemonth if we pleased." He told Major Spiers, at Ajmeer, of his powers, and was laughed at as an impostor; but Cornet Macnaughten put his abstinence to the test at Pokhur, by suspending him for 13 days, shut up in a wooden chest, which he says, is better than being buried under ground, because the box, when hung from the ceiling, is open to inspection on all sides, and the white ants, &c., can be easier prevented from getting at his body while he thus remains in a state of insensibility. His powers of abstinence must be wonderful to enable him to do without food for so long a time, nor does his hair grow during the time he remains buried.

I really believe that there is no imposture in the case, and that the whole proceeding is actually conducted in the way mentioned above.

This letter was written by Lieutenant A. H. Boileau, of the Engineers, First Assistant of the Great Trigonometrical Survey, who at that time was employed in the survey of that part of the country. The gentlemen whose names are mentioned in the letter are Captain Trevelyan, of the Bombay Artillery, and Cornet, now Lieutenant, Macnaughten, of the 5th Regiment Light Cavalry, assistant to the agent to the Governor-General in Rajpootanah.

Some other information I obtained in the course of conversation with Lieutenant Boileau, and which I noted down. Lieutenant Boileau was unacquainted with the man's name or cast; he believed that he had taken up the life of a fakeer; he understood that the man had been buried six or seven times, but whether for any period longer than a month he knew not; he did not hear how the man discovered his powers, or when he commenced to practise them. Lieutenant Boileau arrived at Jaisulmer, after the interment, and saw the place, described in his letter, in which the man was buried. There was a guard of four or five Churpurees, in the employ of the muharawul, as he understood, who were on the watch, to prevent any interference or imposition. The process of burying and of disinterring was conducted in the presence of Easu Lal, one of the ministers of the muharawul. The day fixed for the disinterment was known to Lieutenant Boileau, but not the exact hour. Captain Trevelyan's moonshee, who had set forth to give intelligence when operations were to be commenced, arrived only in time to see the people ripping open the cloth, or shroud, in which he had been enclosed. The moonshee immediately start d off a man to inform his master and Lieutenant Boileau, who were in their tents, at a distance of about three furlongs.

They waited a few seconds to apprise Lieutenant Mackeson, of the 14th Regiment Native Infantry, British agent for the navigation of the Indus (who was disinclined to accompany them,) and repaired to the spot as quickly as possible. Perhaps a quarter of an hour had elapsed since the opining of the
