Ella Goldstein.

Ella Goldstein's Cape Town season scheduled for November, has now been postponed to December owing to her outstanding success in Johannesburg. This young Palestinian pianist was originally booked to give five recitals there, but her reception has been so enthusiastic that a few extra ones have been added to her itinerary.

ALHAMBRA.

"Roberta," acclaimed as the perfect musical comedy, opens at the Alhambra Theatre on Monday. This is a brand new copy of the famous Jerome Kern miracle musical, starring Irene Dunne, Ginger Rogers and Fred Astaire, and the film which is backgrounded by an exclusive gown shop, is as sparkling as its music and dancing. The film features some outstanding hits, among which are "Smoke Gets in Your Eyes," "Lovely to Look At," "Touch of Your Hand," all sung by the golden-voiced Irene Dunne, Fred Astaire's and Ginger Rogers' "talking" performance to "I'll Be Hard to Handle," "I Can Dance" and "Let's Begin."

ODEON and CURZON.

The screen version of "Up in Mabel's Room" at Odeon and Curzon fully maintains the reputation that delightful French domestic comedy had when it was "stage-played." The mild manners of a newly-wed in his single days, seduced with a delicate piece of lingerie, cause a series of amusing situations which involve several gals making up a country house-party. From the commencement the farce gets into top gear and runs up a non-stop career. The peak is reached by a screamingly funny denouement, followed by a happy ending. All honours go to Denis O'Keefe, Marie Reynolds, Lee Bowman, Gail Patrick, John Hubbard and Binnie Barnes, with a special mention for Mischa Auer.

COLOSSEUM.

Latest of Alfred Hitchcock's sensational suspense-dramas and heralded as one of his best, "Shadow of a Doubt" comes to the Colosseum Theatre on Monday. The new film stars Teresa Wright and John Cotten. Said to contain all the sustained excitement of former Hitchcock films, "Shadow of a Doubt," it is claimed, strikes a more intimate and romantic note than its predecessors such as "Rebecca," "Suspicion," and "Saboteur," all celebrated Hitchcock screen successes. An average American town and an average American family are dramatised in the action of "Shadow of a Doubt." The story concerns a notorious fugitive murderer who hides-out incognito with distant relatives. They are totally unaware of his criminal record.

PLAZA.

"White Cliffs of Dover" is still breaking attendance records at the Plaza. The season has been extended a further few days.

Presented by an impressive cast, headed by Freddie Bartholomew, Spencer Tracy, Lionel Barrymore and Melvyn Douglas, Metro-Goldwyn-Mayer's screen version of Kipling's "Captains Courageous" will follow. Coming from the studio that has given to the world several epics of the sea, "Captains Courageous" on the screen reflects the power of Kipling in its effective beauty, presenting the story as he described it and giving life to the amazing characters he created. The new re-issue definitely indicates that here is another picture from M.-G.-M. which will merit and win the descriptive adjective, "great."

Jerusalem.

The first Palestine restaurant, serving meals of standard menu at the standard price of 100 mils, has been opened in Haifa, while another is planned in Hadar Hacarmel. The fourth Palestine restaurant has now been opened in Jerusalem, making the second "Kosher" eating-house inaugurated by the Government Food Control authorities.
