FORMER IRGUN LEADER SERIOUSLY WOUNDED.

Jerusalem.
One of the former leaders of the Irgun and now a leader of the Heruth movement, known under the pseudonym of Dan, was seriously wounded when police opened fire on a group of leaders of the movement because they resisted the requisitioning of their car. Three other leaders, including the commander, Avinoam, escaped injury, but a passer-by was slightly wounded.—J.T.A.

Interesting Ballet at Alhambra.

There was a very large and enthusiastic audience at the Alhambra Theatre on Monday night when the University of Cape Town Ballet Company and the Johannesburg Ballet Theatre, sponsored by African Theatres, presented a programme of five ballets.

The Cape Town company opened the programme with the ever-popular "Les Sylphides," the solo parts being danced by Joyce van Geems and Pamela Chrimes. The only male dancer, Desmond Gullet, gave able support.

Joyce van Geems, as a street girl of the Nineties, and Arnold Dover were particularly amusing in "Shore Leave," performed by the Johannesburg dancers. The music, "L'apprenti Sorcier" by Dukas, added much to the enjoyment of this delightful ballet.

"The Haunted Ballroom," another Cape Town contribution, followed, after which the Johannesburg company, to the music of Tchaikovsky's "Francesca da Rimini," presented "Quo Vadis," which was very enthusiastically received by the audience.

A most satisfying night of ballet was concluded by the Cape Town dancers in the lively and colourful "Fiesta."

The directors, Dulcie Howes, Arnold Dover and Stanley Hoffman are to be congratulated on a very fine effort.
