THE ZUID-AFRIKAAN.

CAPE TOWN, FEBRUARY 6, 1832.

It is well known that the wealth of a country depends chiefly on the Scouring state of its Agriculture. The first great object of Political Economy, it is to provide for the immediate domestic consumption of the people, and secondly for the soil capable of producing as much food, or commodity as will cover the same and all other necessaries of life. It is an object of the first importance, for which we have no great reason for complaint; our harvest has been most abundant during the past year, and we have not yet to use the ills of our neighbors, knowing, that it is not altogether a matter of good fortune. In the present state of the Cape Colony, a variety of causes has retarded the advancement of the agriculturists, as well as the inhabitants at large. The Cape Colony, with all the advantages of a Commercial society, is mainly dependent on the export of its produce, and yet it has no other export or import to the value of 1,000,000 L. sterling, and this is the cause of the inhabitants being much better off than in the other colonies of the Cape.

I have perused your last April of this year; whereas there is no improvement, as I have seen; and it would be a bad state to pass over so little advantage to the present Government, that is in action, in accordance with the instructions of the State. The wealth of the Cape Colony, and the amount of produce already sent to England, will be a better judgment of the Colony's affairs than I have been able to read in the newspapers.

SUSAN.

THE EXAMINATION RELIABLE TO A.

Mr. Binns, 25, on the 29th last, was examined by the police, and found to be a criminal person.

The examination of Mr. Binns, 25, on the 29th last, was completed by the police, and found to be a criminal person.

I have perused your last April of this year; whereas there is no improvement, as I have seen; and it would be a bad state to pass over so little advantage to the present Government, that is in action, in accordance with the instructions of the State. The wealth of the Cape Colony, and the amount of produce already sent to England, will be a better judgment of the Colony's affairs than I have been able to read in the newspapers.

SUSAN.

THE LATE VOLUNTEER EXAMINATION—"A.

Mr. Binns, 25, on the 29th last, was examined by the police, and found to be a criminal person.

The examination of Mr. Binns, 25, on the 29th last, was completed by the police, and found to be a criminal person.

I have perused your last April of this year; whereas there is no improvement, as I have seen; and it would be a bad state to pass over so little advantage to the present Government, that is in action, in accordance with the instructions of the State. The wealth of the Cape Colony, and the amount of produce already sent to England, will be a better judgment of the Colony's affairs than I have been able to read in the newspapers.

SUSAN.

FATE OF THE COLONIES.

A Letter from Mr. Binns, 25, on the 29th last, was examined by the police, and found to be a criminal person.

The examination of Mr. Binns, 25, on the 29th last, was completed by the police, and found to be a criminal person.

I have perused your last April of this year; whereas there is no improvement, as I have seen; and it would be a bad state to pass over so little advantage to the present Government, that is in action, in accordance with the instructions of the State. The wealth of the Cape Colony, and the amount of produce already sent to England, will be a better judgment of the Colony's affairs than I have been able to read in the newspapers.

SUSAN.
The President acknowledged the thanks of the House for the message of the 30th of last month, and the House adjourned. Congress has not yet been convened for the session of 1844, and is not expected to meet till the beginning of February, unless a few persons, in the meantime, could be induced to attend to the business of the country. The President of the United States is now in the city, and the Vice-President has taken his seat in the Senate. The Senate and House of Representatives have not yet met, but the President has been in communication with them. The Bank of the United States is now in operation, and the Bank of the United States, at New York, is also in operation. The President has been in communication with the Bank of the United States, and the Bank of the United States, at New York, is also in operation.

The President has been in communication with the Bank of the United States, and the Bank of the United States, at New York, is also in operation.

The President has been in communication with the Bank of the United States, and the Bank of the United States, at New York, is also in operation.

The President has been in communication with the Bank of the United States, and the Bank of the United States, at New York, is also in operation.

The President has been in communication with the Bank of the United States, and the Bank of the United States, at New York, is also in operation.

The President has been in communication with the Bank of the United States, and the Bank of the United States, at New York, is also in operation.

The President has been in communication with the Bank of the United States, and the Bank of the United States, at New York, is also in operation.

The President has been in communication with the Bank of the United States, and the Bank of the United States, at New York, is also in operation.

The President has been in communication with the Bank of the United States, and the Bank of the United States, at New York, is also in operation.

The President has been in communication with the Bank of the United States, and the Bank of the United States, at New York, is also in operation.

The President has been in communication with the Bank of the United States, and the Bank of the United States, at New York, is also in operation.