SPECIAL RUSSIAN EVENING.

Next Thursday, September 17th, a modern Russian evening will be presented by the Cape Town Municipal Orchestra, and will feature works by Stravinsky, Prokofieff and Rachmaninoff. The work of Prokofieff is the new and unique Russian masterpiece, "Peter and the Wolf." This has a narration running through it that was performed by Basil Rathbone in New York only a short while back, and will be performed on this occasion by Dudley Cassel. Stravinsky's Suite from the Ballet "L'Oiseau de Feu" will be performed, and also the Rachmaninoff Symphony No. 2 in E minor.

Preferential booking for this very big evening is already open at Darters, and those desirous of being present are advised to reserve their seats early.

ODEON.

"Four Men and a Prayer," 20th Century-Fox's new romantic adventure film, will be shown at the Odeon Theatre, Sea Point, on Thursday, 17th September.
Starring in this film are Loretta Young, William Henry, John Carradine, Alan Hale, Richard Greene, George Sanders, David Niven, C. Aubrey Smith, Reginald Denny, J. Edward Bromberg, Berton Churchill and Charlie Taylor. "Four Men and a Prayer" whirls one from untamed India to glittering Washington, from ominous London to gay Buenos Aires and mysterious Egypt.

PLAZA.

In "My Life is Yours" now showing at the Plaza, young Dr. Kildare, his preceptor, Dr. Gillespie, his sweetheart Mary Lamont, and the rest of the popular "Kildare" characters come to the screen with a gripping new adventure for the seventh story in the series. The guest star, Bonita Granville, has a spectacular role as an ice skating star. The story has a gripping courtroom climax.

Next Wednesday the eagerly awaited musical comedy "Ship Ahoy" will cater for those in search of brighter entertainment. Eleanor Powell, Bert Lahr, Red Skelton, Virginia O'Brien, Tommy Dorsey and his orchestra, and crowds of dancing girls contribute to the pleasure promised to all who see this spectacular musical comedy film.

ROYAL.

In Metro-Goldwyn Mayer's "San Francisco," opening at the Royal Theatre on Monday, Clarke Gable portrays a big-time gambler of the Golden Gate city at the height of its most glamorous period, in the beginning of the twentieth century. This is a romantic musical drama in which he is co-starred with Jeanette MacDonald and Spencer Tracy. The part is in tune with the type that Gable likes best. Miss Mac-Donald figures as a small-town minister's daughter who seeks adventure in San Francisco, rises to fame in the music halls and later in the legitimate theatre. She sings favourite songs of the past and others written for her. These range from melodies familiar to every household to the most famous operatic airs.
