ALHAMBRA.

Miss Hall, the well-known and popular Cape pianist, will give a concert at the Alhambra on Sunday evening, 9th December, in aid of the "Thank You Britain" Fund. Earlier this year Miss Hall returned to the Union by air on an extended tour of the Middle East, where she played in many concerts to South African audiences.

Miss Hall toured Italy, where she gave recitals in Rome, Florence, Venice, Milan, Turin, Genoa, and other cities, and then visited Austria, where she was the only British artiste to play in Vienna when the Allies took over in August. Her tour was arranged by the U.D.F. authorities, covered 10,000 miles, and she had an enthusiastic reception from Springbok audiences everywhere. After her European tour Miss Hall returned to North Africa, where she gave recitals at Benghazi, Solatobruk and the Suez Canal area.

Her recital on the Sunday evening at the Alhambra will be as given for the troops at the front. The programme will include Waltzes, Opus 18 (Brahms), "Kreisleriana," Opus 16 (Schumann), "In G major" (Bach), Nocturne, Opus 48, "in E minor and Study in E major (Chopin), "El Albaicin" (Albeniz).

COLOSSEUM.

A new page in screen history has been written with the production of Paramount's "The Hitler Gang" which comes to the Colosseum on Monday. This picture is said to contain dramatic incidents of the first order. Playing their roles to perfection is a group of talented Hollywood actors and actresses whose resemblance to the actual Nazis is phenomenal. The swift pace of the film leaves audiences breathless, according to reports, since it takes in the beginnings of Hitler's rise to power, continuing up until the present time. Details of the unknown incidents, long kept under lock and key in Nazi vaults, are brought into the open. The record is not a pretty one.

ROYAL.

When identical—and beautiful—twins change places in order to bring their parents together again, and neither the parents nor the girls' own boy friends realise what has happened, you have the outline for a hilarious comedy. And that's just what "Twice Blessed," the new M.G.M. picture, which opens at the Royal on Monday, is: a laugh session from beginning to end. Featured in the film are Preston Foster and Gail Patrick as the parents in the case, and those wonderful Wilde Twins, Lee and Lyn, who gave Andy Hardy "blonde trouble" and are now giving their boy friends, Marshall Thompson and Jimmy Lydon, sweetheart trouble.

Engagement.

SHER—SCHWARTZ. — The engagement is announced of Zipporah, second daughter of Rabbi Z. Schwartz, of the S.A. Zionist Federation, and Mrs. Schwartz, to Joseph, eldest son of Mr. and Mrs. Ch. Sher, of Durbanville.
