Muizenberg Youth Set Good Example.

Although the Palestine Special Emergency Fund Campaign has been launched primarily for individual contributions a number of organisations and institutions have given substantial contributions from their own funds.

Amongst the most striking instances is that of the Jewish youth of Muizenberg. Both the Young Israel Society and the Jewish scout troop have spontaneously collected funds both from their individual pockets and from the proceeds of functions and have brought this along to swell the funds of the Campaign. The individual amounts are very substantial considering that they have come from youthful supporters and the Committee wishes publicly to express its appreciation.
