

Below: Davy, the bulldozer jockey, at work on a site in Johannesburg where his firm operates heavy earth-moving equipment. Davy likes machinery and his foremen rate him high. But his plans for the future include further study to enable him to help others afflicted with speech defects. That is his fans and music don't change these plans.

transparencies by Charl Pienaar

Left: When his group, the Plainsmen, broke up Davy took a job as a bulldozer operator.