

A vintage poster with a yellowish, aged background. The text "UTTAMA PURUSH IN CONCERT" is printed in large, bold, red, sans-serif capital letters, arranged in four lines. The text is superimposed over a faded, black-and-white photograph of a band. The band consists of several men; one in the foreground is playing a guitar, and another is partially visible behind him. The overall aesthetic is that of a classic rock or folk concert poster from the mid-20th century.
