An open letter to the Youth of Johannesburg

Dear Friends

Sadly, apartheid is not being dismantled by the government.

The municipal elections on October 26 is a prime example of how the government tries to make things look as if they are changing when, in fact, they are staying the same.

We are told these elections are a step towards giving all people a say in governing the country.

But although all South Africans are being called on to vote on the same day, each race group will be voting for a separate council.

This means that apartheid remains intact.

But although the government is not getting rid of apartheid, ordinary South Africans are doing so by waging everyday struggles against apartheid.

The government can no longer enforce the hated Group Areas Act in places like Central Johannesburg, Hillbrow, Berea and Mayfair because black South Africans have rightfully moved into these areas and will not move out.

PW Botha and his friends are still trying to separate people according to their race. But this is not working in Johannesburg.

The Johannesburg Youth Congress (Joyco) is living proof that people of all races can live and work together in harmony.

We are concerned about building a non-racial future and this is why we are laying the foundations for this now, by being a non-racial organisation.

We would like as many people as possible to join us in breaking down the barriers of apartheid.

Our cultural evening, for all the people of Johannesburg, is a start in building the future now.

Please attend, and help declare Johannesburg an apartheid-free zone!!
