Although he has been connected with race horses
for so many years, he never bothered to waste his money on betting. "I work much too hard to gamble," he said.
Punters — and there are many
— he said, come to him for tips
but he simply brushes them aside
telling them that his only interest
is in making a living.
While in England, Mr. van Niekerk will stay with his wife's sister. He could not say how long he would be away. His wife, Mrs. Sonia van Niekerk, who will remain at home with the four kids will continue with her teaching profession until one day "Daddy decides to come home."
Her husband, she said, never really had a holiday. She doubted whether he would ever allow himself a rest. "But maybe the English climate will have a good effect on him," she added with a smile.
Mr. van Niekerk told us that race horses have to be fitted with a special type of aluminium shoes — once a month. The shoes has to be light and great care must be taken when fitted. He tic, who won last year's July, was one of them.

Community Centre Opened in Tiervlei

Adjoining the new centre — modern in interior and exterior design — stands a well-equipped library built recently.

ABOUT 200 rate-payers attended the official opening of the new R45,500 Community Centre for Coloured people in Florida Estate, Tiervlei (Parow) recently. The Mayor of Parow, Mr. F. N. Kriel, who performed the official opening of this imposing building, said that two important projects for the Coloured community in the area had been tackled. The centre, he said, was one, and the housing scheme was the other. Originally the Council intended that the housing scheme should provide only for Coloured people who were living in White areas, but it had been decided that it should now be extended to help those people who live in poor homes as well.
Mr. Kriel told his attentive audience, that there were now 329 homes in the area, but that this figure would be extended to 800 in due course. Work on the clinic, he added, would soon start.
