TRUE REPRESENTATION IN WRITING.

ON APRIL 27 YOU CAN HAVE IT IN GOVERNMENT.

The democratic ideal rests on nothing less than true representation; on the assurance that the interests of all are served.

Only an ANC government can live up to this ideal because it will represent every race, religion and culture in our country.

It will be a government made up of men and women who come from every region. A government that will at last give women a real voice because no less than one third of our candidates are women.

Our candidates were not chosen in isolation, but were nominated by thousands of individuals and organisations from around the country. The list of 200 names on the opposite page is proof of our commitment to true representation. A guarantee that we will work together with all South Africans to ensure a better life for all.

On April 27 you can elect them to represent you - and for the first time in our history put true democracy into practice.

Working together for jobs, peace and freedom - a better life for all
