

WILL MY ONE LITTLE VOTE REALLY CHANGE A THING?

You may be sitting there feeling just this: that your vote won't make a difference.

After all, you don't even have anybody to vote for. The Nats can't be trusted, and the DP may be too small.

But if you're feeling helpless, take heart.

Every 1/4 of 1% of the vote will win us one seat. So expect more than a few Democratic Party members in Parliament.

And if you think we won't make a difference, look what we did at the multiparty negotiations. We stopped the ANC putting their own judges in the highest courts.

We gained extra powers for the regions. We made sure the new government couldn't arbitrarily impose a State of Emergency.

And we fought for your property rights, so your home couldn't just be taken away. The reason we could do this is simple: we fight a lot harder for what we believe in.

So if you think you're helpless, think again. Vote for the DP, and make your vote count.

DEMOCRATIC PARTY. PROTECTING YOU FROM THE ABUSE OF POWER.
