TODAY MR NELSON MANDELA HONOURS PRESIDENT DE KLERK WITH A 'FLAME OF FREEDOM'

On 2nd February 1990, FW de Klerk announced the death of apartheid and set South Africa on the road to democracy. On that day he set in motion:

- the release of Nelson Mandela
- the release of political prisoners
- the abolition of all remaining apartheid laws
- the unbanning of the ANC and other political organisations
- the negotiation of a new constitution
- free and fair elections
- one man one vote

When Nelson Mandela lights a 'Flame of Freedom' today, he honours President de Klerk's achievements of 2 February 1990.

Don't just hope for a better life, vote for one. Vote for FW de Klerk. Vote for the new National Party.
