The ANC has a Plan...

To double your taxes
 To double your VAT
 To double your petrol tax

The ANC's Reconstruction and Development Plan is a list of its spending plans for South Africa.

Like all plans it needs money to make it work.

The trouble is that the ANC refuses to say where the money will come from.

So we have done their sums for them.

In order for an ANC government to pay for all its promises, it would need another R70 000 million. That is R2 000 out of the pockets of every man, woman and child in South Africa.

But since the government gets its money from taxes, it won't be everyone who pays. Just taxpayers – like you.

Every time you go shopping, you pay taxes. They are part of the price.

Every time you get into your car or a taxi, you pay taxes. They are part of the petrol price.

Every time you make a telephone call or use electricity, you pay taxes. They are part of the bill.

For every R10 you spend now, R1,40 is for tax.

An ANC government – to pay for its plans – would have to double this.

For every R10 you spent, you would have to pay R2,80 in tax – double the tax you pay now.

Up would go your morning coffee, up would go the jam on your bread, up would go your fares to work, up would go your pack of cigarettes, up would go your favourite drink, up would go your journey home, up would go your evening's entertainment – television, cinema, books, or a braai with friends. Up would go the cost of your children's clothes, and holidays for the family.

And if you pay income tax, you'll be hit even harder. For every R100 tax you pay, you would have to pay an extra R85!

A vote for the ANC is a vote for Double Tax – Double your Cost of Living – Double Trouble!

Only by voting for the National Party can you prevent this. The NP believes in keeping taxes low and keeping prices stable.

The NP is the only party big enough to stop the ANC picking your pocket. Don't waste your vote on other parties.
