Chelwood Vachery,
Nutley, Sussex.

to thee I will sing,
Nina, Nana, ~~I will sing to thee,~~ chimes of a bell at midnight thou ^{lt.} ~~will~~ hear ~~the little bell ring.~~
But the bell that we ^{ll} ~~shall~~ hear will not become It belongs to Santa Lucia.
Santa Lucia gave thee her eyes,
And Magdalena her ^{golden} ~~fair~~ tresses,
The Angels, my child, their fair colouring
Holy Martha her little mouth so full of grace
Her sweet little mouth with the Florentine curve.
O tell me, I pray, how love begins, violins
It surely begins with the music of ~~fiddles!~~
And ends at length with little children,
It surely begins with singing and yearning
And ends at length with lamenting & weeping
Nina, Nana ~~I will~~ to thee I will sing,
Nina, Nana, Nana.
