To celebrate the barmitzvah of Bernard Feigenbaum, Mr. and Mrs. M. Feigenbaum entertained a large number of the Jewish community to a supper and dance on October 26. The Central Tea and Grill Rooms are chosen for the occasion, the grill room being turned into a ball room for the evening. Only a limited number of dancers could be accommodated but with an orchestra discoursing an up to date programme the dancers and sitters out were quite satisfied. The supper was laid on the balcony facing West Street and here a hilarious crowd proceeded to enjoy themselves. The host and hostess were assiduous in attending to their guests and thus the celebration proved a most enjoyable function to those who were present. Mr. S. Lyons was the Master of Ceremonies and showed that he knew his duties. There were some very elaborate dresses worn for the occasion which called forth many admiration.

The annual Congress of the South African Agricultural Union has been sitting this week in Durban. Mr. W. Ehrlich was elected as a member of the Executive Committee as representing the Orange Free State.

Two motor accidents have to be recorded. A collision between a motor car driven by Max Korb of Hillcrest and a riksha took place. Two ladies who were in the riksha were thrown out but escaped with a shaking. The motor car was slightly damaged. A native woman was knocked down by a motor cyclist named Woolfson and sustained injuries to her arm and back and had to be taken to Hospital.

It is stated that recently, Petlura gangs entered Woinilow, near Stanislaw, and organised a three days' pogrom. Ten Jews were killed and forty-five were wounded. Fifteen Jewesses were dishonoured, and nearly all Jewish women were undressed, and driven about naked in the streets. All Jewish houses and shops were plundered. The material losses amount to two million marks. At Stanislaw, twelve Jews were killed many Jewesses were dishonoured, and many Jewish streets were plundered. At Tysmienka the family Polak was massacred. At Nadworna, six Jews were killed, and many were wounded. Thousands of Jews were also impoverished there.

We learn that in reply to various objections raised by the Jewish deputies as regards the obstacles put in the way of fostering Jewish education in Poland, the Polish ministry stated that it would not create any difficulties in connection with the introduction of Hebrew as a non-obligatory subject in all public schools if the Jewish communities were prepared to defray all the expenses necessary for such an undertaking. At the same time, the Ministry announced that the Total Sunday Closing Law was not meant to be used as a weapon against the Jewish religious schools, and that the attempts made in some towns to force such educational institutions to close on Sundays were unauthorised.
