

Capetown Notes.

(From Our Own Correspondent)

An exceptionally interesting wedding took place at the Great Synagogue on Tuesday afternoon when Miss May Liberman, eldest daughter of Mr. and Mrs. A. Liberman, was married to Mr. Louis Spitz, son of Mr. and Mrs. B. Spitz, of Johannesburg. The ceremony was performed by the Rev. A. P. Bender, assisted by Cantor L. Kirschner, and was fully choral. During the service a little boy from the Cape Jewish Orphanage sang in most wonderful voice both in Hebrew and in English. The Synagogue was most beautifully decorated for the occasion with agapanthus lilies, marguerites and greenery; there were festoons of asparagus fern along the gallery and arches of palms over the aisles, while the canopy itself was a bower of flowers.

Messrs. A. Buirski, C. Buirski, E. Greenwall and B. Urdang acted as canopy bearers, while the duties of bestman devolved upon Mr. H. Spitz.

After the ceremony Mr. and Mrs. Liberman held a most enjoyable reception at "Davaar," Hof-street. Mrs. Liberman received her numerous guests in a handsome gown of nigger brown crepe georgette embossed with roses in beautifully shaded tones from purple to orange. The wide beaded sleeves and train were of nigger brown georgette, and a panel of cinnamon georgette hung gracefully from the left side. With this exquisite gown Mrs. Liberman wore a hat of brown charmeuse trimmed with bird of paradise plumes, and carried a bouquet of red dahlias.

Amidst showers of confetti and the felicitations of their friends, the bride and bridegroom left for a short honeymoon in the Peninsula before going North to their home in Johannesburg. The bride's travelling dress was an elegant three-piece suit of black marocain relieved with orange, and she wore a hat to match.

A CAPETOWN COMPLAINT.

To the Editor.

"S.A. Jewish Chronicle."

Johannesburg.

Sir,—I feel some explanation is due to your Capetown readers as to your attitude in regard to the reporting of meetings held here. Quite recently an important meeting attended by practically all the leading members of the community was held for the purpose of considering a supposed wonderful scheme for establishing a farm for training our orphans. Needless to say the Orphanage supporters would have nothing to do with so foolish a project and the proceedings were interesting if not lively, resulting in the idea being abandoned. Strange to say not a single word has appeared in the columns of your paper regarding this and I venture to say that had Mr. Ochberg carried the day you would have devoted considerable space in praising his new scheme which has been so unanimously condemned by the members of the Capetown Orphanage. Personally I hope that in the future you will give all sides fair play and show no favour to one particular person or section.

Yours etc.,

"A CAPETOWN READER."
