Capetown Orchestra Activities.

To-morrow evening in the City Hall, Miss Jean Stevens, assisted by Miss Edith Stevens and Miss Jean Strapp, will present her annual display in conjunction with the Cape Town Orchestra. There will be over 100 performers taking part in this year's display which promises to be very outstanding. In addition, Miss Molly Short will present some interesting numbers, and Miss Strapp will introduce Greek dancing, which is a special feature of this entertainment. There will be four ballets and divertissement, and national dancing will also be a special feature. The costumes are beautiful, scenery magnificent, and the music selected is very popular. Altogether there is no doubt that Miss Stevens will add yet another triumphant success to her list.

On Sunday Mr. John Connell, Musical Director to the City of Johannesburg, will conduct the Cape Town Orchestra in a popular programme of music. The soloist on this evening will be Madame Lilli Kraus, who will sing popular songs. Orchestral items include the Overture "Rienzi" (Wagner), Suite "Peer Gynt" (Grieg), "Evening on the Veld" (Pickerill); Prelude "La Deluge" (St. Saens).

The soloist at next Thursday's symphony concert will be Mr. Alan Graham, who will play the Tschaikowski Piano Concerto. There will be a first performance of Delius' Dance Rhapsody No. 1, and the Symphony will be Tschaikowski's Fifth. The Overture "La Chasse du Jeune Henri" (Mehul) will complete the programme.

THE MAJESTIC.

On Thursday and Friday a very fine musical and singing film, "Let's Fall in Love," will be presented. It has a great cast including Ann Sothorn and Edmund Lowe.

THE ROYAL.

"The Barrets of Wimpole Street."

The same romantic team which won such ovations in "Smilin' Through"—Norma Shearer and Frederic March—are together in the new Metro-Goldwyn-Mayer feature, "The Barretts of Wimpole Street," opening at the Royal on Monday next.

The poetic love story of the new film is reminiscent of "Smilin' Through," the star's greatest hit, in its main theme and sentimental appeal. Like the other, it is a colourful costume picture, set in a great romantic age.

With old-fashionedness the vogue in to-day's films, "The Barretts of Wimpole Street" is in the centre of fashion.

Set in 1845, the poetic story of the love of Elizabeth Barrett and Robert Browning is unfolded against a beautiful, mellowed drop of gentler times and dressed in the curls and crinolines which go arm in arm with romance.
