A SILVER WEDDING

Mr. and Mrs. M. Sand

A large circle of friends will be extending congratulations to Mr. and Mrs. M. Sand, of St. Patrick's Road, upon the occasion of their silver wedding. They were married at the Park Synagogue on the 8th of September, 1912, by Chief Rabbi Dr. J. L. Landau, assisted by the late Rev. Mannie.

Both Mr. and Mrs. Sand have, during the period of their married life, taken a keen interest in every aspect of communal endeavour. They are generous contributors to charity and to Zionist funds, and their home is a centre of Jewish idealism. This they have instilled in their children.

Many interesting communal functions have been held at "Sandhurst," their charming residence, which is likely to be filled by a large gathering of well-wishers on Sunday afternoon, September 26, when Mr. and Mrs. Sand will be "at home" in connection with the celebration.

A NEW "CHARLIE CHAN"

THRILLER.

"Charlie Chan at the Circus," which is the current attraction at the Plaza Theatre, is an exciting film and Warner Oland, as the Chinese detective, solves one of the most baffling crimes of his career. The supporting cast includes Keye Luke (as Chan's son), Francis Ford, Maxine Reiner and John McGuire, as well as a number of circus performers. The first half of the programme is good.

A COMEDY DRAMA.

The well-known Jewish actress, Sarah Sylvia, will stage a comedy drama, "Three Sisters," at the Standard Theatre, for a three days' season, commencing on Tuesday, September 28th.

"CALL IT A DAY" AT THE COLOSSEUM.

A bright and charming film is the present attraction at the Colosseum Theatre. A number of well-known stars head the cast of "Call it a Day," including Ian Hunter, Olivia de Havilland, Roland Young, Alice Brady, Anita Louise and many others. The story tells the love story of each member of a certain family who are all sentimentally affected by the lure of spring. Charles Manning conducting the symphony orchestra is an added attraction to the already excellent supporting programme.
