ALHAMBRA.

Rosalind Russell and John Boles, as Mr. and Mrs. Walter Craig, will be seen in the picturisation of George Kelly's famous Pulitzer Prize-winning play, "Craig's Wife," which opens to-night at the Alhambra Theatre.

Miss Russell essays her first important emotional role in films in "Craig's Wife" having thus far gained her greatest fame as a charming, subtle comedienne.

PLAZA.

The fact that so many people ask for a picture to be brought back speaks for itself. In response to repeated requests Metro-Goldwyn-Mayer have made a new re-issue of the Vicki Baum novel "Grand Hotel." The picture will be shown at the Plaza next week.

In "Grand Hotel" Greta Garbo has the part of Grusinskaya, the Russian dancer who falls in love with a pearl-stealing Baron (John Barrymore). Joan Crawford has the part of the seductive stenographer, Flaemmchen. Wallace Beery appears as Preysing, the textile magnate, and Lionel Barrymore has the role of Kringelein, the invalid out for a final fling at life in the most expensive of Berlin hotels. Lewis Stone and Jean Hersholt head the large supporting cast.

ROYAL

The truth about gold! Laurel and Hardy are prospecting for it! Try and imagine Stan and Ollie as gold prospectors! Off on a stage coach to Brushwood Gulch with a deed of a gold mine in their pockets and hopes of a quick fortune in their hearts, the boys get into more quick trouble with Sheriffs and bandits than we thought possible.

You'll laugh from the well-known opening tune till the heroes leave town in a cloud of dust.
