ROYAL.

Artie Shaw makes his screen debut on Monday at the Royal Theatre in "Dancing Co-Ed," featuring Lana Turner, Richard Carlson and a really swell cast. Shaw offers "Nightmare" and "One Night Stand" among many of his popular hits, with two new ones added, "Stealing Apples" and "Racket Rhythm." For those not so interested in jitterbug-mania, there is a mad cap story and fun from beginning to end. There is plenty of music, lots of comedy, and 200 jitterbugs personally selected by Artie Shaw as the best in the West. Lana Turner does three specialities, including one with Lee Bowman. Ann Rutherford dances for the first time on the screen and will be a surprise to those who know her as Polly Benedict, Andy Hardy's girl friend.

PLAZA.

Robert Montgomery, so often seen on the screen as the wise-cracking man-about-town, has again proved himself a versatile actor with his dramatic portrayal of a Chicago gangster in "The Earl of Chicago," now showing at the Plaza. The story is an unusual one, with Montgomery playing Silky Kilmount, liquor racketeer, who becomes an English Earl by inheritance.

Other outstanding performances are given by Edward Arnold, Reginald Owen, Edmund Gwenn, E. E. Clive, Ronald Sinclair, Norma Varden, Halliwell Hobbes and Ian Wulf.
