TRADE ENQUIRIES INVITED

The Cinema

"Nothing But Trouble" features the inimitable Laurel and Hardy. They play the roles of a chef and butler, and in this capacity nearly poison a prince, generally mess up a royal reception, and otherwise provide hilarity in the comical story of the servant problem and intrigue of a government in exile. See it at the Metro.

Mae West comes back to the screen in the film "The Heat's On," an amusing comedy based on a Broadway show, which features also William Gaxton in the role of a producer, and Victor Moore in the role of a reformer who tries to improve on the morals of Broadway shows and their producers. Good entertainment at the Plaza.

Tribute to the men of the Merchant Fleet is paid in the exciting film, "Tampico," which should have a long run at the 20th Century. Edward G. Robinson in the role of the Captain gives a memorable performance. Lynn Bari is in the female lead. Action, drama and suspense are the keynotes of the film. Don't miss it!

Danny Kaye and Dinah Shore are co-starred in the sensational "Up in Arms" which will be shown at the Colosseum this week. The story is clever and there is a mass of humorous situations. Producer is Samuel Goldwyn.

Filed in vivid technicolour "Western Approaches" gives a true account of the Battle of the Atlantic. Thrills and excitement in every realistic scene. Informative entertainment at the Empire.
