He regrets his inability to grateful thanks will be accepted.

MUSIC AT NIGHT

MUSIC at Night is probably one of the most ambitious productions ever to have been undertaken by the Reps. The qualities of the play are as big as its faults. Yet in spite of the short-comings of the act, Music at Night is a piece of art in a raw, unpolished state, which excites reactions such as might be expected in face of an Epstein statue.

The Reps and Dolfanna Brown, producer, deserve to be congratulated on this ambitious production which is in marked contrast with the light fare offered recently.

The play has many potentialities for the future of the drama and has served as a training ground for many more modern performances.

The actors all seemed to have entered into the spirit of the show, and maintained a balance which was together admirable. The women parts were particularly well played and of the men, Ernest Abbot Philip H. Manners suited their parts very well.

Ella Goldstein

Ella Goldstein will be at home to the members of the S.A. Friends of the Palestine Orchestra and Habimah Theatre on Friday, February 23, 3.30 p.m., in the drawing room of the Carlton Hotel.

PORT ELIZABETH YOUNG WIZO

Two very successful meetings were held by the Port Elizabeth Young Women's Zionist Organisation. At the first meeting an address was delivered by Miss Phyllis Gitlin. During the course of the speech, Miss Gitlin heartily congratulated the group on its good work. Miss Phyllis Gitlin, who presided, cordially welcomed the visitor. It was announced at the meeting that tree certificates had been presented to Brenda Ann Babrow, newly-born daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Babrow, and to Joel Bergman, newly-born son of Mr. and Mrs. Bergman.

At the second meeting Mr. R. Bergman delivered a brilliant address entitled "The Jewish People in Africa in Midpassage." Miss Bergman presided, thanked Mr. Bergman for his informative talk. Garments made by the group and handed in at the meeting were displayed.

Vrede, O.F.S.: At the annual meeting of the Jewish Ladies' Guild, the following committee were elected: Chairlady, Mrs. K. H. vice-chairlady, Mrs. S. Ellman; hon. secretary and hon. treasurer, Mrs. F. H. witz; committee, Mesdames G. Wolman, Shakenovskiy, L. Rosen and A. Goott.

The S.A. Jewish Orphanage has received from Mrs. F. Borowitz, the hon. secy, the sum of £2 2s. being proceeds of an "Home" held at the home of Mr. and Mrs. P. Goott.

Ella Goldstein Concert

[Colosseum - March 4]

ELLA GOLDSTEIN, who is giving a recital in aid of the Palestine Orchestra and Habimah and Ohel Theatres on Sunday, March 4, at the Colosseum Theatre, has chosen a magnificent programme for the occasion. She is playing:

"Adagio Favori" by Mozart, "Carnaval" by Schumann, "Andante spianato and Polonaise brillante" by Chopin, "Claire de Lune" by Debussy, "Impromptu No. 3" by Faure and "Three movements of Petrouchka" by Stravinsky.

Through the generosity of African Consolidated Theatres, the total proceeds of the concert will go to help the three most important artistic institutions in Palestine, and Miss Goldstein's appearance on their behalf should make this one of the most memorable occasions yet organised in Johannesburg for a fund-raising purpose.

The function is under the auspices of the S.A. Friends of the Palestine Orchestra and Habimah and Ohel Theatres, at whose offices, 32 Montanne House, cor. Joubert and President Streets ('phone 22-0434) tickets are available. Booking is open both at Public and the Colosseum.

The Cinema

A tale of ancient Baghdad, with its Caliphs, Grand Viziers, beggar-thiefs and beautiful women has been brought to the screen in the film "Kismet." Spectacular scenes of the palaces, the bazaars, the market places of the East, are shown against a background of blazing technicolour. Heading an all-star cast is Ronald Colman as the charming beggar-thief, Marlene Dietrich as the beautiful woman of deep mystery, James Craig as the romantic Caliph, and Joy Ann Page as the vivacious daughter of the beggar-thief. "Kismet" should have a good reception at the Metro.

Dedicated to love, laughs and the pursuit of happiness, "Pin Up Girl" is the story of the girl in every serviceman's dream. Set to music, laughter and dancing in a spectacle of vivid technicolour beauty, "Pin Up Girl" makes for light and enjoyable entertainment. A scintillating score of seven new tunes are introduced by Charlie Spivak and his orchestra, with Betty Grable and Miss Raye as vocalists. Don't miss it at the 20th Century.

Rosalind Russel is co-starred with Brian Aherne in the sensational film of love, laughter and confusion "What a Woman" which has been booked for the Colosseum. The story is clever and the theme is developed with whirlwind action leading up to a startling climax. Willard Parker as a non-eccentric professor is responsible for many of the laughs.

Jon Hall has the role of the "invisible man" in the latest episode of the exciting series. "The Invisible Man's Revenge" deals with the feud of a genius scientist and the rest of the world. No dearth of breath-taking suspense and a rather unusual ending. See it at the Plaza.
