THE ZUID-APFRIKAAN.

CAPE TOWN, SEPTEMBER 10, 1838.

INTERPRETATION.

Let us take the English Correspondents P. 5, which appears to be the last number of the East African, and, of which the paper’s popular condition, has given us the following translation of Interpreta’s last number, as follows:

Mr. P. Q. of the "Holland" (London) states that the following is a translation of some of the articles in the said newspaper:—
