DE ZUID-AFRIKAAN.

KAAPSTAD DEN 31 MEI 1848.

Wy hebben niet verkeerd geprofeteert.—De Landsgenaren van de Kapstads Municipaaliteit syn dien doordringen van de noodzaaklykheid om goede wegen door de gansche Kolonie te hebben, maar gevonden zich bezwaard over de myze waarop de verponding daartoe vereist, geheven wordt, en protesteren erbiedig dat maar krachtigdiglyk teeneen voortding van dezelve.

Dese waren de gevoelens der byeenkomst op II.
Maandag gehouden, uitgedrukt in den onderstaande resolutien by die gelegenheid genomen, en welke wy het genoegen hebben onzre Lezers thans voorteleggen.—Zy behelzen, met enige geringe uitonderingen, den weeklank der onderscheiden punten in ons lustige 'nopen' het onderwerp overwogen, en werden op ene bekwaime wyze ontvouwd door die Heeren wien te beurt gevallen was, dezelve voortstellen of te ondersteuen.—Geene enkele byzonderheid in dese voortkomende werd over het hoofd gezien of onbewezen, gelaten.
De drukkende strekking der thans bestaande wet werd met de grondbeginsel van regtvaardigheid, het vastgoed der Kapstad te belaten tot het maken en onderhouden van tak-
of afdelingen wegen binne den kolonie, en dat het de plicht van de ingehetenen van districten of afdelingen, het maken van zulke wegen vereischende, dezelve te onderhouden op hunne eigne kosten en rekening.

5. Voorgesteld door den Heer M. E. HURLY, gescondeerd door den Heer W. RUTHVEN, en unaniem besloten,—

Dit het volgen dat de gevoelens der byeenkomst strydig met de grondbeginsel van regtvaardigheid, het vastgoed der Kapstad te belaten tot het maken en onderhouden van tak-
of afdelingen wegen binne den kolonie, en dat het de plicht
van de ingehetenen van districten of afdelingen, het maken van zulke wegen vereischende, dezelve te onderhou-
den op hunne eigne kosten en rekening.

6. Voorgesteld door den Heer B. Norden, gescondeerd door den Heer John Cannon, en
unaniem besloten,—

Dat, wat betreft de grote wegen, hewel deze byeenkomst wel volledig is, dat de land-eigenaren, op grond van regt en billykheid, volkomen bevridding behoeven te elchen van enige verdere hydragen hoegenaamt tot de kosten dage-van, deselve evenwel,—ten einde het doel mogt worden bereikt, en om de inzichten van Zyne Excellentie den Admini-strateur van het Gouvernement te geryen,—van gevoelen dat dat een som van £2,000 per jaar, voor den tyd van slechts drie jaren door de Kapstads Municipaaliteit diende te worden betaald voor en ten behoeve van de ingehetenen deser stadt in plaats van de weg-verponding, in aanmerking nemende dat de Municipaal Fonds, gedurende de drie volgende jaren bytedragen, voor en ten behoeve der Landeigenaren van de Kapstad, in plaats van enige in dezelver handelingen plaats vinden, tevens een ernstig punt van behandeling heeft uitgegaen.— De Vergadering was zeer juist van oordeel dat de stem des volks in de kiesing der leden behoerde te worden gerandpleegd en dat hunne handelingen met open deuren behoorden te geschieden. Deze voorstellen, in zichselven zoo gepast en billyk zullen, hopen wy, geredelyk worden ingestemd.—

Dat een Pettie, in den geest der voorgaande Resolutien wordt gepresenteerd aan den Gouverneur in 't Ned. dat als een bewys van het vertrouwen, hetwelk dese byeenkomst hecht moet, ontpoedigd en onpartijigheid van Sir Harry Smith, Zyne Excellentie serbield wordt veroesch de petitie, waarmee beden alhier besloten is geworden, aan den Wetgevenden Raad te presenteren, en dat de Edle William Porter wordt veroesch de petitie te ondersteuen.

Professor CHANGUION, de tweede Resolutie voorstellende, sprak de Vergadering aldus aan:—

MYNER Voorzitter!—Verga my over het underwerp overner beradaaldeg, kortelyk myn gevoels te uiten.
Ik zal beginnen myne deskryf over belangheids in het algemeen bekend te stellen. 't Stel vast dat het plicht is van elken onderlaan om vrywillig, en sonder enige blyk van het tegendeel, belastingen te betalen; want hoe toch kan de Overheid ons welstand bevoordren, indien wij haar de middelen daartoe onthouden? Maar ik stel tevens vast, dat ieder Britsch onderdaan samrap moet om te weten wat er met het geld door belastingen geheten gedaan wordt; an dat niet alleen, maar ook doore middelen en sova: wel rigtiger het geheten is. Er is mynhe, een billyk en regtvaardige manier van belasten, maar er is ook een onbillyk en drukkende, die met en ander woord gefalfersing heet. Die moette wi, ons noot of nimmer later gevalwezen. Het beginsel van billyk belasting is myn bepasseid dat: dat de last op allen schouderen gelijk drage.
Toetsen we nu eens den maatregel waarmede wy billyk worden aan dat beginsel van billyk. In het blad genoemd Cape Town Mail, van laasteled: Zatung komt een opstel voor, dat ieder kind verstaan kan, en dat niemand onderstaan moet, dat het volk met deszelfs Gouvernement ontevreden te maken en van betrouwbaar te vervroomden, dan het oude stelsel van de yzen roede—het "zoo wil ik het"—noo beveel ik het.
Niet is daarentegen regtvaardiger en billyk—niets meer berekend om het volk met deszelfs Gouvernement te overtuigen van een innig verlangen koestende houding, om vriendelike betrekkingen staande-te houden met alle Mogendheden die, even als Frankryk, vast besloten hadden de regten der natuur te verbieden.

THE ZUID-AFRIKAAN.

CAPETOWN, MAY 11, 1848.

Our conjectures proved true. The Landowners of the Cape Town Municipality are deeply impressed with the necessity of having good roads throughout the Colony, but feel aggrieved at the manner in which the rate, required thereto, is levied, and protest, respectfully but firmly, against a continuance thereof.

These were the sentiments of the Meeting held on Monday last, as expressed in their resolutions, and which we now have the pleasure to lay before our readers. They contain, with some slight difference, the echo of the various matters, in connection with the subject, which we considered in our last, and were most ably explained by those gentlemen whose task it became to propose or second them. Not one of the particulars to which they refer was left unnoticed or unproposed. The oppressive tendency of the existing law was demonstrated by facts—the unfairness of its further continuation emphatically asserted, but at the same time an honorable willingness displayed to contribute—in order to assist in the obtaining of the grand object—a certain sum from the Municipal Treasury, during the three years following, for and on behalf of the Landowners of Cape Town in lieu of any Road Rate to be levied hereafter.

The independent spirit which animated this well-regulated Meeting, did not however merely confine itself to the main point of discussion—the question by whom the pounds, shillings and pence, levied in the shape of this odious tax, should henceforth be paid. It very appropriately extended itself a little further, and it will be observed that the present constitution of the Central Board, and the manner in which its proceedings are conducted, likewise formed a subject of serious discussion.

The meeting very justly concluded that the voice of the people, in the choice of members, should be consulted, and that their proceedings should take place with open doors.

These propositions, so appropriate and equitable in themselves, will, we trust, be readily conceded. Nothing, soorth, is more unfair and more opposed to the present liberal spirit of the age than to force upon the people entrusted with the important task of taxing them, and of employing those taxes for their benefit. This, we repeat, is entirely opposed to the spirit, which gradually obtains throughout the world, and from the benevolent operation of which this colony, jointly with some other dependencies of the British Crown, has been hitherto very unjustly excluded. The representative system—the only safeguard against abuse and excess of authority, is the inalienable right of every British subject, and, in conjunction with a free and unrestrained discussion in the presence of those interested, a jewel, for the obtainment of which the colonists, whenever any opportunity occurs, should make the most strenuous endeavours. Nothing, in our opinion, is more unjust—nothing more inequitable—nothing more calculated to make the people dissatisfied with the Government and to estrange them from it, than the old system of the "iron soul"—the sic solo, sic jubeo. Nothing, on the other hand, more just and equitable—nothing more calculated to effect an opposite result, than an acknowledgment and a respect of the sacred rights of the subject, which are best protected in their various tendencies, by according him a voice in the management of the general affairs of the state, and above all not to tax him against his will, or without consulting his representatives.

The sentence of death pronounced on the Tollman Boer, at the last Criminal Sessions, has been commuted by His Excellency the Governor to imprisonment for life.

The other culprit Klaas will be executed on Tuesday next.

6. Proposed by Mr. B. Norden, seconded by Mr. John Cannon, and carried unanimously.—

That, as regards the main roads, although this meeting is fully satisfied that the landowners ought, on grounds of justice and equity to claim a total exemption from any further contribution whatsoever, towards the expense thereof, yet, in order that the object may be accomplished, and to facilitate the views of His Excellency the Administrator of the Government, it is of opinion, that a sum of £2000 per annum, for a period of three years only, should be paid over by the Municipality of Cape Town to and on behalf of the inhabitants of this city, in lieu of any road rates, taking into consideration that this Municipality have to make and maintain our own roads, at a considerable annual expense.

7. Proposed by Mr. B. Norden, seconded by Mr. O. M. Bergh, and carried unanimously.—

That in the opinion of this meeting the Road Board should, for the future, consist of seven members, three to be appointed by the Governor, one of which to be chairman, and that four be elected by the landed proprietors of the colony, two in the Eastern and two in the Western Districts, and that all their meetings should be held open doors.

8. Proposed by Mr. O. J. Truter, seconded by Mr. B. Norden, and carried unanimously.—

That a petition be presented to the Governor and Council, in the spirit of the above resolutions, and that as proof of the existence of this meeting in the Justice and Impartiality of Sir Harry Smith, His Excellency be respectfully requested to present to the Legislative Council, the petition this day has been resolved upon, and that the hon. Mr. Porter be requested to support the petition.

From the extracts, copied by us from yesterday's Commercial Advertiser, it will be observed that a serious revolution has again taken place in France. The King has been forced to abdicate the throne and leave the country.

The English papers up to the 15th February, containing the result of the last debates in the Chamber of Deputies, as also the opinion of the French Press respecting the same, and an account of the measures adopted by the Government immediately before the revolution, throw considerable light on this momentous event, as will be observed by the reader on perusing the articles which we have prefixed to the above extracts. From them it will be seen that the refusal of the ministerial party, to recommend Parliamentary Reform and especially the present constitution of the Central Board, and the manner in which its proceedings are conducted, likewise formed a subject of serious discussion.

The meeting very justly concluded that the voice of the people, in the choice of members, should be consulted, and that their proceedings should take place with open doors. These propositions, so appropriate and equitable in themselves, will, we trust, be readily conceded. Nothing, soorth, is more unfair and more opposed to the present liberal spirit of the age than to force upon the people entrusted with the important task of taxing them, and of employing those taxes for their benefit. This, we repeat, is entirely opposed to the spirit, which gradually obtains throughout the world, and from the benevolent operation of which this colony, jointly with some other dependencies of the British Crown, has been hitherto very unjustly excluded. The representative system—the only safeguard against abuse and excess of authority, is the inalienable right of every British subject, and, in conjunction with a free and unrestrained discussion in the presence of those interested, a jewel, for the obtainment of which the colonists, whenever any opportunity occurs, should make the most strenuous endeavours. Nothing, in our opinion, is more unjust—nothing more inequitable—nothing more calculated to make the people dissatisfied with the Government and to estrange them from it, than the old system of the "iron soul"—the sic solo, sic jubeo. Nothing, on the other hand, more just and equitable—nothing more calculated to effect an opposite result, than an acknowledgment and a respect of the sacred rights of the subject, which are best protected in their various tendencies, by according him a voice in the management of the general affairs of the state, and above all not to tax him against his will, or without consulting his representatives.

A communication had been made by that Provisional Government, to all the Foreign Ambassadors at Paris, assuring them that the revolution would not make the slightest alteration in the position of France with regard to its European Allies; and that it entertained an earnest desire to maintain amicable relations with all Powers who, like France, had firmly resolved to respect the rights of nations.

The sentence of death pronounced on the Tollman Boer, at the last Criminal Sessions, has been commuted by His Excellency the Governor to imprisonment for life.

The other culprit Klaas will be executed on Tuesday next.

Original Correspondence.

Mr. EDWARD.—Allow me, through the columns of your widely read journal, to dislodge the minds of my Christian fellow-colonists, regarding some vile and sneaking insinuations of a certain wretch, who, in some late numbers of your paper, subscribes his effusions: "A Traveller," but the more appropriate soubriquet of "Merry Andew." It is abundantly suspected, Mr. Editor, that he once made a somerset, and he has been heard to express his readiness, if ordered, to perform a similar feat a second time. At all events, he is fond of living near the road, and, from his perambulatory gesticulations, appears to have learned in his youth the care of soles.

I am not surprised, therefore, that he should have travelled beyond his measure into a false position, and fu' that he should feel vexed and annoyed at the signal success of Missionaries, whose very presence here contradicts one half of his own aqua-vocal profession, namely, that of belonging or being attached to the Free Church. As he hesitates not to ridicule the paucity and insignificance of its adherents in this city, I must conclude that he has succeeded in completely turning the heads of his quondam Free Church satellites. It may also be presumed that his logic is in their eyes as convincing as it is categorical, when he deduces the important truth, that, because the general assembly of the Church of Scotland names the British Colonies generally, without specifying the Cape of Good Hope, therefore it is not a British Colony, and her ministers, immediately on landing upon our shores, are free from all ecclesiastical jurisdiction!

2. Proposed by Mr. M. Thalwitz, seconded by Mr. A. N. E. Changuiou, and carried unanimously.—

That this meeting, fully concurring in the expediency of establishing main and branch roads within this colony, in order to facilitate commercial intercourse between the interior and sea ports, beg to express its opinion, that the plan, adopted by the passing of the Ordinance No. 8 of 1843, for defraying the expenses for making and repairing such roads, as far as the Cape Town Municipality is concerned, is inexpedient, unjust in principle, and contrary to all equity, and that it has wholly failed to produce those beneficial results which the promoters of the ordinance pro-nosticated, in as much as landed property has suffered a still further depreciation in consequence thereof.

2. Proposed by Mr. M. Thalwitz, seconded by Mr. A. N. E. Changuiou, and carried unanimously.—

That this meeting is therefore of opinion, that the Municipality of Cape Town have contributed more than a fair and just proportion towards the expense of making and repairing roads throughout the Colony; and is the event of any new provision being required to complete such roads, as may remain in an unfinished state after the expiration of the present Road Ordinance, that the above facts ought to be taken into due consideration, and such provision made on behalf of the landowners of this Municipality as will meet the equity of their case.

5. Proposed by Mr. E. Hurly, seconded by Mr. J. H. Wicht, and carried unanimously.—

5. Proposed by Mr. E. Hurly, seconded by Mr. W. Ruthven, and carried unanimously.—

That in the opinion of this meeting it is contrary to the principles of justice to tax the immovable property of Cape Town, for the construction and maintenance of branch or divisional roads within this colony, and that it is the duty of the inhabitants of districts or divisions, requiring the construction of such roads, to maintain them at their own expense and charges.

"Last week was held in the large room of the Commercial Exchange, and which was well attended, the first annual General Meeting of the Cape Town Auxiliary to the British and Foreign Bible Society. Many Ministers attended, and spoke in Dutch and English, for the sittings of the Synod of the Dutch Reformed Church is being held, and brings many from the interior, who only come once in five years. Dr. Adamson, a Scotchman, a most useful and valuable man, spoke on the advantages of these Bibles. Several ministers from the interior, said, that in many of the Dutch families, till lately, only one Bible was to be found in a house, and lots were cast, who at morning, and who at evening, should read it; but that now, every member that could read, is making an effort to have one. Last year, upwards of 16,000 were circulated, so that the Word of Life may indeed be said to run, and God will be glorified. I have sent Dr. Adamson your letters to read on the Bible Monopoly, so that if he had not read them he may ascertain the means by which the price was reduced."—British Banner.

Many Ministers attended, and spoke in Dutch and English, for the sittings of the Synod of the Dutch Reformed Church is being held, and brings many from the interior, who only come once in five years. Dr. Adamson, a Scotchman, a most useful and valuable man, spoke on the advantages of these Bibles. Several ministers from the interior, said, that in many of the Dutch families, till lately, only one Bible was to be found in a house, and lots were cast, who at morning, and who at evening, should read it; but that now, every member that could read, is making an effort to have one. Last year, upwards of 16,000 were circulated, so that the Word of Life may indeed be said to run, and God will be glorified. I have sent Dr. Adamson your letters to read on the Bible Monopoly, so that if he had not read them he may ascertain the means by which the price was reduced."—British Banner.
