THE ZUID-AFRIKAAN. CAPTOWN, SEPTEMBER 28, 1847.

The arrival of a vessel from England on Tuesday afternoon, bringing papers to the 31st July, again enables us to put our readers in possession of intelligence up to that date.

It is said, on the authority of private letters received from London by the above opportunity, that a rumour was rife there that Sir HARRY SMITH had been appointed Governor of the Cape, in the room of Sir HENRY POTTINGER.

We were this time agreeably surprised by the Frontier post, the arrival of which, a little after 1 o'clock p.m. yesterday, enables us to communicate some especially at this moment—important particulars.

The Amatola Mountains are again described as the stronghold of the August Rebel and his adherents, —the first movement of the troops, at least, appears to be directed to that quarter.

The Ploughing Match, announced by the Agricultural Society, came off on Tuesday morning last. Six ploughs were on the field; but the Ransome plough, conducted by J. Pellican obtained the first prize.

This morning at 10 o'clock the Agricultural Show will take place on the parade; at 12 o'clock the Wine and Spirit Caps will be awarded; and at 2 p.m. theiffin will be served up.

At the election of the 13th instant, Messrs. H. C. Jarvis, J. G. Steyer, Gs. A. J. Louw, Sen., and F. van Broda, Alex. Son, were returned as Commissioners for the Divisional Board of Roads for the Cape District.

By the Gloriana, the Commissariat Department here has again received £100,000 in specie.

MOSHESH AND THE EMIGRANT FARMERS.

Moshesh, says Mr. Rudolf from over the Orange River, in a letter to his friend in the Colony, gave the emigrants farms in his territory, as freshholds, —and now that the farms have been improved, and houses and orchards upon them, he encourages and incites his people to annoy the emigrants in every conceivable manner.

PORT NATAL.

By a casual opportunity from Weenen we learn that the Lieut. Governor and staff arrived in that village on Saturday the 7th, about noon. The inhabitants were warned of the approach of His Honour the same morning, and he was met a few miles from the village by a small party of newly arrived inhabitants, headed by their Fieldcornet.

The following resolutions were adopted by a Public Meeting held at Natal:— 1. That the capabilities of this colony cannot, within any reasonable time, be developed, unless some measures are adopted for the introduction of emigrants; and that it is desirable that the government and the public should adopt measures for the encouragement of such emigration.

2. That this meeting is of opinion that emigrants, especially agriculturists, will find a profitable field for their labors in this colony; and that families who can locate themselves, without the aid of the government, or by charitable donations, will find ample room for their industry.

3. That a permanent Committee be appointed by this meeting, to be styled the Natal Immigration Committee, consisting of twelve members, with power to add to their number, six of whom will form a quorum; whose duty shall be to correspond with the local government and also with other private or public persons, respecting the facilities to be offered to emigrants to procure ground, and respecting all other matters, tending to promote the object in view, and that the Committee shall make an annual report of their proceedings.

ment the military force stationed here, and especially the cavalry. 7. That this meeting is of opinion that, for the encouragement of immigration, it is absolutely necessary that a law be passed regulating contracts of hire and labor in this colony.

FRONTIER AFFAIRS.

(From the Graham's Town Journal, Sept. 18.) Tuesday.—The well-known Kafr Chief Macoomb, arrived in the vicinity of Graham's Town yesterday. —but did not enter it, his destination being given to be Cape Point, where he would again enter upon his high road to Port Elizabeth, the place of his destination. He was accompanied by his family and a few retainers, the whole party comprising 10 men, 20 women, and 25 children—total 55 persons—with 100 head of cattle, 20 horses, and two wagons. These people are accompanied by Mr. G. Cyrus, the government Kafr Interpreter, who is to proceed with them to Port Elizabeth, where it is understood they are to be placed under the strict surveillance of the Resident Magistrate. For the present they are to be supplied with provisions at the government expense. The Chief is said to be in a very moody humour, evidently reluctant to proceed, and ingenious in excuses for lagging on the path.

Wednesday.—Information has reached town that a few nights ago ten head of cattle, belonging to a Dutch farmer named Remberg, were taken out of his kraal, at Paarde Kraal, about 6 miles S.W. of Graham's Town. It is said that this man had employed some Kafr servants, and it is suspected that these have absconded with the cattle in question.

Thursday.—This day a small detachment of the 91st Regiment marched from Graham's Town for Bathurst, where for the present they are to be stationed. We learn, also, that a detachment of military will proceed at the same time to Riebeck, where they will remain until further orders. These, as far as they go, are judicious arrangements, the former giving increased confidence to the inhabitants of Lower Albany, and the latter keeping open the Post road between Graham's Town and Somerset, with very few exceptions, cleared of the London Society's troops, and which, though not so implicitly depended on, is on the other hand by no means to be despised.

Friday.—To-day appointed for the rendezvous of the Kafr forces at Shiloh, whence it is intended to move immediately forward upon the upper part of the Amatola. This division will be under the command of Major Sutton, with Captain Hogg, commandant of the native levies. Colonel Somerset, with the Mounted Rifles, will move up from the Gooles Feiguts to King William's Town, and thence to the division which will march from Fort Hare, thus forming a tolerably good chain across the country upon which it is intended to operate. It is not expected, however, that much spoil will be taken, or, for reasons already stated, that any very determined resistance will be encountered. The Kafr is too cunning to expose himself designedly to open conflict with the troops, but he will watch his opportunity, every movement of our men will be observed by him, and every mistake, or act of commission or imprudence, will be taken advantage of. It is confidently affirmed that if his cattle, or rather those of the colony, be found, they must be sought beyond the Kei, or perhaps to some extent among the friendly Kafrs, who, under circumstances like the present, are sure to find their numbers and their stock too greatly augmented.

Report has been made that five Kafrs, armed with guns, were seen yesterday on the farm of Messrs. Cavewood & Co. (the Government contractors), situated about two miles S.W. of Graham's Town, and within the limits of two parties of Kafrs, entering the colony, were seen last evening crossing the Queen's Road, near the finger post, leading to Fort Brown. From the footmarks of these parties was supposed to consist of about 20 persons, the other half that number. We hear likewise that the spor of a party of marauders has been seen in Lower Albany, a little above Cavewood's Post. The direction of this spor, as well as others to be traced, will all be corroboratory of the information previously given of the intention of the Kafrs, when the troops enter their country, to make a counter movement upon the colony. Since writing the above the following has been received from the immediate frontier:—The hostile Kafrs are in considerable force in the Amatola, and have determined, in consequence of meeting our troops, to dispute that ground to the west. It is said that their plan is to avail themselves of our ignorant knowledge of the intricate fastnesses which abound there, so as to harass their assailants by sudden attacks at difficult points, and by cutting off, if possible, such small detached parties as may be imprudent enough to place themselves in critical positions, where they may be assaulted by them at great and decided advantage. This report, coupled with others already stated, is well calculated to induce the most unshuddering vigilance while in the field, and the deepest consideration as to every measure which may be adopted for the subjugation of the subtle and active enemy.

GENERAL ORDERS.

Graham's Town, Sept. 10, 1847.

1. Lt. Dickson 91st Regt., will proceed to Fort Beaufort to rejoin his Regt., and Lt. McCrea 45th Regt., will act as Fort Adjutant at Fort Hare until further orders.

2. At the request of His Excellency the Governor, the Lieut. General Commanding is pleased to approve of two Non-commissioned Officers of the 90th Regt. being attached to the Kafr Police until further orders.

3. Active operations being about to commence against the Rebel Sandilich, officers commanding posts throughout the Frontier are informed to exercise the utmost vigilance in their respective commands; they will not allow the men to leave their posts in the day time singly or without arms, and they will prohibit them altogether being away after dark. Care must be taken that the cattle are well guarded, and not allowed to graze at too great a distance from the post; where practicable one or two mounted men must be sent out with them.

Original Correspondents.

Cape Town, Sept. 26, 1847. Sir,—Though unpleasant to be taken to wait through the stream of numerous fifth pound flour in the Shopkeepers and Tradesmen's Journal of the 12th inst., still it may be useful to expose its preposterous misstatements, for fear that if uncontradicted they might be made the ground work of further abuse to the following remarks on that very liberal production.

One of the correspondents in that paper Castigator (wielder of the Javelin) throughout the whole of his production, heaps a load of abuse on Mr. Fairbairn, very cunningly, of course, but which I leave that gentleman to answer. Dropping therefore, this part of his effusion, I shall proceed in the first place to draw your attention to the price of bread, & give you, containing myself chiefly to that quality commonly called English Bread, as most generally used.

Castigator, and his coadjutor the Half-Baked Baker, and the Editor himself, inevitably state its price at 3d. per pound. I have purchased bread of this description, and of pretty equal quality, of 3 different bakers in distant parts of the town, and have found the weight to vary from 145 to 155 pounds, which gives the price of from 2s. 6d. to 2s. 9d. per bushel. This leads to the conclusion that either the price of bread is inaccurately given in the Journal, or that the bakers give short weight, and that to the tune of from 1 to 12 ounces in the pound.

Another complaint of Castigator & Co. is that they must bake twice in every 24 hours because people won't eat unvarnished bread. Considering that the amount of bread they have to prepare is a trifling profit, they would prove that the profit on bread, sold in its whole or delivered to his customers, must be more than 16 per cent, beyond the 10 per cent. already acknowledged. For nobody would dream of serving the milliners for the sole gratification of profiting the shopkeepers at a loss.

PARLIAMENTARY INTELLIGENCE.

HOUSE OF LORDS, FRIDAY, JULY 23.

PROROGATION OF PARLIAMENT. The session of 1847 was closed yesterday by Her Majesty in person, and with the last words of the speech from the Throne virtually ended the existence of the Parliament elected in 1841. The double interest thus imparted to the form of prorogation was greatly increased by the fact that the ceremonial assembled together the three estates of the realm for the first time in that magnificent hall of the New Palace at Westminster, destined, it may be hoped, to be the theatre of their combined and harmonious action for centuries to come.

The Lord Chancellor, in the usual form, presented the speech, which Her Majesty read as follows:—"My Lords and Gentlemen, I have much satisfaction in being able to release you from the duties of a laborious and anxious session. I cannot take leave of you without expressing my grateful sense of the assiduity and zeal with which you have applied yourselves to the consideration of the public interests."

"Year attention has been principally directed to the measures of immediate relief, which a great and unprecedented calamity rendered necessary. I have given my cheerful assent to those laws which, by allowing the free admission of grain, and by affording facilities for the use of sugar in breweries and distilleries, tend to increase the quantity of human food, and to promote commercial intercourse."

"I rejoice to find that you have in no instance proposed new restrictions, or interfered with the liberty of foreign or internal trade as a mode of relieving distress. I feel assured that such measures are generally ineffectual, and in some cases aggravate the evils for the alleviation of which they are adopted."

political parties in that country may be settled without an appeal to arms. "I think your year willingness in granting me the necessary supplies, & your still being applied with due care and economy to the public service."

"I am happy to inform you, that notwithstanding the high price of food, the revenue has, up to the present time, been more productive than I had reason to anticipate. The increased use of articles of general consumption has already contributed to this result."

"The various grants which you have made for education in the United Kingdom will, I trust, be conducive to the relief and moral improvement of my people."

"My Lords and Gentlemen, I think proper to inform you that it is my intention immediately to dissolve the present Parliament."

"I think proper to inform you that it is my intention immediately to dissolve the present Parliament, and to call a new Parliament to meet on the 11th day of November next, and that the death by which we have been afflicted may, by the Divine blessing, be converted into happiness and plenty."

Her Majesty returned the speech to the Lord Chancellor, who then declared the Parliament dissolved; till Tuesday the 31st day of September next, to be then holden; and it was accordingly prorogued to that day.—Times, July 24.

AMERICA.

LYNN, July 26. The British and North American Royal Mail Steamer Calcutta, Captain Lott, arrived in the harbor shortly after noon after an extremely rapid passage of 11 days 18 hours from Boston, and bringing the usual mail, together with 105 passengers.

The political events of this steam ship are unimportant, and contain no striking feature. In Mexico Santa Anna had again resumed the Presidency, and received powers equal to those of Don Juan de Palafox. A forced loan of 1,000,000 π p. had been commanded, and energetic but ill-directed efforts were being made to fortify the capital against the advance of the United States Forces. General Scott, however, had been compelled by adverse circumstances and the weakness of his command to halt at Jalapa. The last accounts, however, announce, that he had since abandoned that city, and that it had been then occupied by the Mexican guerillas. Several collisions with those dangerous and irregular foes had occurred with the American outposts and detachments in the State of Vera Cruz to the interior; and, of the whole, the prospects of peace were held to be less bright than at the departure of our last accounts. The latest news from Mexico are to the 19th ult. and announce, in addition to the above facts, the return of Commodore Perry from his expedition against Tabasco. The Commodore had found the river impassable, and consequently landed his command; and on his arrival at the town one volley sufficed to dispel the Mexicans in opposition to his entrance which he met from the Grande Guerra which returned General Taylor had made no advance, and that he was about to return home to attend to his private affairs.

Tempo accounts contain rumours that Urrea contemplated an attack upon the city, in the hope of recapturing it. Colonel Doniphan's troops had arrived, and were received with great cheer at St. Luis. The official Journal announces that 25,000 men had been, or were about to be despatched to General Scott, and that a force of 10,000 men was also destined to strengthen the command of General Taylor. A skirmish had taken place in New Mexico between a body of 700 Americans, under Major Edmondson, and a troop of 400 Mexicans and Indians. The Americans were compelled to retreat, and abandoned one man. Another American troop had also suffered a trifling loss in a collision with the Indians.—Times, July 29.

CHINA.

Arrivals from China state that the object of Sir John Davis's expedition was to settle in a public manner what had hitherto depended only on a secret article in the treaty of Nanking. This it is asserted sanctioned the suspension of access to Canton till some future period; in defining that period there Sir John did only what he was bound to do, as the secret article compelled a specific agreement. Further disclosures on this point are necessary, before faith can be pinned to the above. The state of affairs in the mean time at Canton is eminently unsatisfactory and another military demonstration seems inevitable.

The owners of the property at Honan which was selected by the Government of Hong Kong in company with the Chinese authorities, have refused either to lease or sell to the British; the Surveyor has been driven back, the Consul assaulted, large meetings held at which very threatening language was used to intimidate the foreigners, attempts have been made to burn property near the factories, and the better classes say they are more in apprehension of an outbreak than they ever have been before. Commerce is altogether suspended, and the whole system of trade unhinged. The next arrivals are anxiously looked for.—The Eastern Star.
