Het oorspronkelijke tekstfragment is niet herkenbaar vanwege de onleesbaarheid van de geschriftdruk. Het is niet mogelijk om of te doen wat de vraag oplevert.
THE ZULU AFFAIRS.

The following extract is from a letter from Mr. C. F. Burton, dated November 8th, 1882:

"The Zululand campaigns have been very costly, both in money and blood, and the consequent drain on our resources has been severe. The country is still in a state of agitation, and the prospects of peace are not encouraging. The Zulus are determined to fight, and their numbers are increasing. The government is obliged to maintain a large army in the field, and the cost of this is heavy. The Zulu War has been a source of great anxiety to the country, and the nation is exasperated at the continuance of the conflict. The Zulus are determined to resist, and the government is determined to subdue them. The situation is critical, and the future is uncertain."
Cheese.

For Sale, Roadside, Edale, Goyt, Eyam, etc.,

To-Morrow, Tuesday.

The Underprivileged and the young are

BUYING AT THE WHOLESALE TRADE.

The Underprivileged and the young are

BUYING AT THE WHOLESALE TRADE.

The Underprivileged and the young are

BUYING AT THE WHOLESALE TRADE.

The Underprivileged and the young are

BUYING AT THE WHOLESALE TRADE.

The Underprivileged and the young are

BUYING AT THE WHOLESALE TRADE.

The Underprivileged and the young are

BUYING AT THE WHOLESALE TRADE.

The Underprivileged and the young are

BUYING AT THE WHOLESALE TRADE.

The Underprivileged and the young are

BUYING AT THE WHOLESALE TRADE.

The Underprivileged and the young are

BUYING AT THE WHOLESALE TRADE.

The Underprivileged and the young are

BUYING AT THE WHOLESALE TRADE.

The Underprivileged and the young are

BUYING AT THE WHOLESALE TRADE.

The Underprivileged and the young are

BUYING AT THE WHOLESALE TRADE.

The Underprivileged and the young are

BUYING AT THE WHOLESALE TRADE.