ABU RESIDENTS OF THE UNITED STATES.

About 11 o'clock on Friday morning last, a small body of volunteers, under the command of a major of the United States Army, took possession of the arsenal at Poughkeepsie, New York. The mayor of the city, accompanied by a large body of citizens, visited the arsenal, and found that the property had been removed from the building. The mayor then addressed the volunteers, and stated that the property had been removed under the authority of the government. The volunteers, after expressing their gratitude for the courtesy of the mayor, marched to the arsenal, and upon entering found the property had been removed. The mayor, after expressing his grati- tude for the courtesy of the volunteers, left the arsenal, and the property was taken possession of by the volunteers.
