DEVALLEN in de Kaapstad, op den 5 dezer, de rechtgeboort van den heer J. R. MARQUARD, van eene dochter

By some accounts our Colony is in a most prosperous way: we read of increasing population, increasing revenue, improvements in farming and cattle breeding and a diffusion of useful knowledge far surpassing anything of the kind that was ever witnessed in these parts since the days of VAN RIJCKE.

It is said to be unproductive for want of water and another for want of lands; we hear of churches without Ministers and of Ministers without Churches; only the Ministers that lack Churches would not answer for the Churches that lack Ministers.

power placed at the disposal of its future administrators; with a view to that object, they have taken upon themselves to recommend to the Board that the following alterations be made in the existing Ordinance.

Alterations in the government of the Municipality.— 1. That in lieu of the Board of Commissioners and Wardmasters, one Board be appointed, to consist of 24 members, to be styled the Town Council.

A Good Example.—The Municipality of Pietermaritzburg, Natal, have determined to construct an iron bridge across the river at the entrance to that place. The bridge will be imported from England, and is expected to cost about £1000 less than a stone one.

ARRIVED AND EXPORTS.—The accounts for the quarter ending 31st December 1856, published in the Gazette, show that the total amount of imports was £1,322,222, and of exports £1,408,151.

Point Natal.—LATEST ZUID-AFRIKAN. The Natal Mercury of the 15th ult. states that the report that PANDA, the old King, is reinstated in power is confirmed by accounts received since our last. This result has been accomplished, we believe there is no doubt, partly at least, through the instrumentality, or at all events, the prestige of the Boers, one of whom, a Mr. Hans Lange, was present at PANDA's trial, and rendered him personal protection during the time when Ketchway's emissaries sought his life.

The reckless conduct of Ketchway's emissaries, however, hastened the downfall of that usurper; and as we stated last week, led to a general defection which materially aided the cause of the King. Ketchway himself is now a desert-dweller, and has taken himself to the neighbourhood of St. Lucia Bay, where the unhealthiness of the locality affords him the security which he would otherwise seek in vain.

Original Correspondence.— THE MALMESBURY MEMORIAL AND THE CENTRAL BOARD. Sir, A memorial has been presented to the Governor signed by 140 Farmers and others of the Malmesbury and Cape Divisions, pointing out a better line of road for the convenience of transport of produce to market than the one lately proclaimed via Droguevel and Durban; the particulars of which have been published.

It is a thing but a "straight line," having several angles, and hills to pass over which make the transport of produce unnecessarily burdensome, when a better line could have been chosen; the route along the 12th mile stone on the Maitland Road, with the other deviations from a direct line, make it at least ten miles greater distance than the one proposed, besides the scarcity of water and pasturage for oxen, which would require to be remedied, and the enormous outlay it would require to construct a hard road over the deep sand on the proclaimed line.

subversion, the power of the Bishop to impart grace, to absolve from sins, &c. &c. The low church believes that regeneration is the act of God and not of man, that the bread and wine in the sacrament are symbols, that no man can impart grace but that it is the act of the Holy Spirit—that to forgive sins, is also the act of God.

There is room for hope that some friendly sail might have rescued them; but another boat was the cause of their distress; some of the passengers. This boat was well provided with provisions, compasses, &c. It was the intention of the captain to pull for Montauk Point. This boat has not yet been heard from. Another boat contained the second mate, Laguerie; the second engineer, Desfour; several of the crew and passengers. This is the only boat heard from so far. The list is, as saved, 16; missing and probably lost, 130.
