DIAMONDS! DIAMONDS!!
ANOTHER DIAMOND FOUND, 83 CARATS!

BOUGHT FOR £11,200!!!
The following letter was received by a contemporary in the Northern Post on Thursday morning:

One Town, 12th March, 1869.
The whole place, I mean the inhabitants, are in a great state of excitement. Schalk van Niekerk has just come in, and brought with him the largest diamond that has yet been found in South Africa.

19th March.
The diamond has just been disposed of to Messrs. Lillienfeld Brothers for £11,200 (Eleven Thousand Two Hundred Pounds Sterling).

P. E. WODEHOUSE,
Koro Koro, 23rd Feb., 1869.

Orange River, March 4th, 1869.
Sir,—With reference to the agreement concluded at Allwal, between the Commissioners of the Orange Free State and myself, relative to the recovery of stolen stock, I have the honor to enclose a list of the places, between Cornet'spruit and the Caledon, at which on or before the 20th inst., Police Officers will be stationed...

I have the honor to be, Sir,
Your most obedient humble Servant,
P. E. WODEHOUSE,
His Honor the President of the Orange Free State.

P.S.—You will be duly informed of any changes or additions.

STATIONS.

- 1.—Moorosi (or Stevenson's) Drift, on the Orange River.
2.—Rifle Point, on the Cornet'spruit.
3.—Jonas Drift, on the Caledon, near Jammerberg.
4.—Jackman's Drift, on the Caledon.

THE VOLKSRAAD.—This honorable body is summoned by His Honor the President to assemble for its annual session in the Council Chamber at Bloemfontein, on Monday, 3rd May ensuing, at 10 o'clock in the forenoon.

MR. VAN SOELEN, late Landdrost of Bloemfontein, will, we hear, on good authority, be brought a prisoner from Potchefstroom to Bloemfontein. It is asserted that he is already on the road to this place.

AN ABAPPTIST.—Two of the brothers of the name of du Plessis arrived here on Thursday last from Wellington, Cape Colony, and gave themselves out to be some kind of prophet, or "new lights," disciples of Mr. Greenwood, who by his vagaries had made himself notorious in the Cape.

non. Part of her daily work was to attend the cattle, and one day lately her master observed one of his cows almost totally bereft of its tuft at the end of its tail. The girl denied any knowledge of how the mishap occurred. A few days after, a handsome chignon was found under a chest of drawers, which was identified as having been made up of the cow's tail tuft. The girl was dismissed, and having found employment with another farmer, she was not long in her new place when she was found guilty of a similar misdemeanour.
