

There is no Established Church, and in the case of a settled colony the ecclesiastical law of England cannot for the same reason, be treated as part of the law which the settlers carried with them from the mother country...

It is therefore, no power in the crown to create any new or additional ecclesiastical tribunal of jurisdiction, and the clause which purport to do so, contained in the letters patent to the applicant and appended thereto, are simply void in law...

It is then, the Bishop of Capetown had no jurisdiction by law, did he obtain any by contract or submission on the part of the Bishop of Natal?

It is a question of the greatest importance, and one which we feel bound to decide. We have already shown that there was no power to confer any jurisdiction on the respondent as metropolitan...
