THE TIVOLI.

On Wednesday an excellent new bill was commenced at this popular vaudeville house, when the principal turn was that of De Biere, the well-known magician and master of present-day wizardry. De Biere is a remarkably attractive personality and his act, which is particularly well staged and most handsomely dressed, is enhanced by the brilliance of his patter. To attempt to describe his tricks would not only be difficult but necessarily detract from the interest attaching to them and reducing the astonishment of the audience. Another turn which was full of charm is that of Ubaldo Russo and Lynda Bradford, who are paying us a return visit and whose beautifully trained and powerful voices render in perfect unison some charming operatic excerpts. The Gladiators provide an excellent display of athletic strength and culture in which all their turns are dignified and graceful, while Ted Cowan who is a type of the old-fashioned comedian sang some amusing songs. Still with us are Edythe Hyland, who sings ballads so gracefully, the Buckleys, who juggle as well as ever, and McCarthy, the great equilibrist. Add to this a topical African Mirror and an interesting Gaumont Graphic and you have a programme which cannot fail to please the most fastidious.

THE ALHAMBRA.

Commencing Monday next, and throughout the week, a two-feature attraction will be shown in one entertaining programme, namely Buster Keaton in his first six-part comedy special, "Seven Chances," the story of a young man, who in order to win a legacy has to get married by seven o'clock of the same evening he hears of the bequest. Some idea of what the picture is like, may be gleaned from the fact that Buster has seventeen leading women. The other feature is "Nanook of the North," the first motion picture to depict the actual life of the Eskimo, it being a vivid and truthful story of father and mother Eskimo and all the little Eskimos at home.
