

Stage Song Show.

THE ALHAMBRA.

Commencing Monday and the following evenings, Blanche Sweet and Neil Hamilton will be seen in "Diplomacy." The scene is laid in Deauville, France, which has become famous within the past decade for its beauty and fascinating spirit; surmounted by the fact that its gambling tables are more celebrated than those of Monte Carlo, and its sparkling woman considered the best dressed in the world. "Diplomacy" is a vibrant story of love and intrigue placed in the electrically exciting atmosphere of an international conference at Deauville. Special daily programmes have been arranged for matinee only, commencing on Monday with Dorothy Gish in "Clothes Make the Pirate," a tremendous comedy sensation, and commencing Thursday, Betty Bronson in "A Kiss for Cinderella."

THE TIVOLI.

Grace and charm are the outstanding features of Miss Edith Clifford's act. Billed as the "Little Lady with the Naughty Eyes," this distinguished American comedienne received a tremendous ovation on the opening night at the Tivoli. She has a very fine repertoire of excellent songs, which she delivers in her inimitable manner and captivates at once the audiences. Morry Blake and Ena Hazelden continue to delight the patrons with their exquisite dancing. We have had many speciality dance acts at the Tivoli but very few that possess the taste and execution of this very popular pair. Another turn remaining over from last week's bill is the Ashley Sisters, in their unique instrumentalist turn. Byron and Byron receive a warm welcome, for Tivolites remember the enjoyment that this couple gave them on their last visit. New comers are Jones and Raines, a delightful comedy duo, their act being a real gloom chaser. As singing instrumentalists, Wendling and Molloy are hard to beat and there is some excellent singing by the lady partner to the accompaniment at the piano of Wendling. With faultless technique and a thorough mastery of her subject, Rebe Kesslova renders some very fine selections on her violin. The stage setting suits her particular act as she delineates a Gypsy violinist. Her numbers were all well received.

ALL STAR MOTHS.

This weeks programme is a huge success. Lilian Abbott's representation of a coloured girl convulsed the audience. Chips Laurenz, the new arrival, won the hearts of all with her songs and dances, and Chas. Percival's impersonation of a Yiddisher soldier was capably portrayed. Lauri and Rayne, the capable duo, were the "extra stars."
