Dear Van,

Just a brief note to confirm the message I forwarded telephonically via Jane earlier tonight.

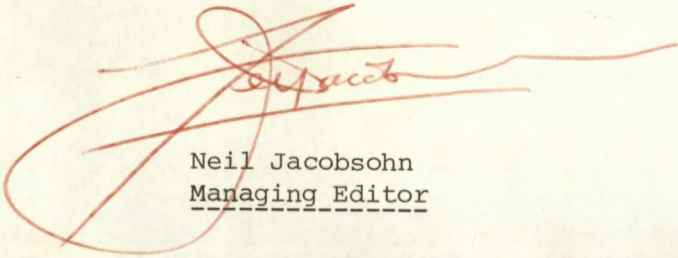

If, as you indicated, you are seriously considering writing on a regular basis on SA affairs, we would be most interested in buying from you a regular column for publication in Business Day and the Financial Mail.

From our side, we consider your opinions to be of great importance. From your side, the combined readership of the FM and Business Day would give you access to a powerful and important audience.

I have discussed the idea with Steve Mulholland, who is as keen as I am. Please take this offer seriously. If you are interested, we can discuss terms as soon as you are ready.

For the rest, all best wishes and I hope you and Jane manage a few weeks of peace and quiet.

Very best regards

Neil Jacobsohn
