THE ALHAMBRA.

“East Lynne.”

“East Lynne” makes its local premiere next week at the Alhambra Theatre. Never in the history of the audible screen was an entertainment vehicle so elaborately planned in advance.

Mr. Winfield Sheehan, the general manager, was determined on obtaining the services of the best available players, stars who fitted the various roles in “East Lynne” like the proverbial glove. Consequently, he signed Clive Brook, Conrad Nagel, Cecilia Loftus and Beryl Mercer for featured roles. Brook was cast as Levinson, the lover of Isabel, while Nagel was assigned the role of her husband, Carlyle. To Cecilia Loftus, beloved international star who is making her motion picture debut in “East Lynne,” went the part of the steel-hearted Cornelia. Beryl Mercer was assigned to portray Joyce, the nurse.

The Fox Film Corporation believes “East Lynne” will be its most distinguished and successful contribution to the new entertainment era.

THE OPERA HOUSE.

“Miss Hook of Holland.”

“Miss Hook of Holland” continues to draw delighted audiences to the Opera House. Only two more performances and a matinee will be given.

For the whole of next week a thrilling murder mystery picture will be screened at the Opera House.

Opening in an abandoned house, where a mysterious death had taken place at a dinner party thirteen years before, the plot immediately plunges Ginger Rogers, the heroine, into the midst of one of the weirdest mysteries ever presented on the screen.

With two murders to account for in the opening sequence, suspicion is directed in rapid-fire fashion to all of the surviving guests of the fatal dinner party, and the solution comes in a sensational climax engineered by Lyle Talbot, who plays the role of a debonair young private investigator. J. Farrel MacDonald, Francea Rich, James Eagles, Eddie Phillips, and others are in the cast.

There will be a matinee every day, but no children will be allowed to any day or evening performance.

THE PLAZA.

“The Man at Six.”

One of the most intriguing and baffling mystery plays is “The Man at Six,” the British International film to be shown at the Plaza next week. Not since “The Ringer” has there been seen a film with as much power, or suspense as this new picture. Briefly it concerns the mysterious disappearance of Mrs. Rowson, an old lady whose movements and general habits are little known. The police who have been called in have practically no evidence upon which to work, but skilfully and carefully every thread is put together and the climax is surprising as it is amazing.

Anne Gray, the new British screen star is the leading lady, she plays the part of the mystery girl who apparently knows more about the case than she cares to tell, Lester Matthews as the amateur detective, who helps the police in the case, plays the principal male role, whilst John Turnbull, who will be remembered by playgoers as a member of the late Denis Neilson Terry's company which toured South Africa, is seen as the Scotland Yard official who is responsible for the case. A cast of prominent British stage and screen artists appear in the supporting roles and they together with the principals make “The Man at Six” a most gripping and thoroughly entertaining film.

THE ROYAL.

“New Moon.”

When “New Moon,” the talkie adaptation of the brilliant stage success, opens at the Royal on Monday next, movie patrons will be given the opportunity of enjoying the first joint appearance on the talking screen of two of the most outstanding figures in the world of song, namely, Lawrence Tibbett and Grace Moore.

The story is a romantic drama of love, adventure and intrigue, with music woven in as integral details of the situations themselves. The original Sigmund Romberg songs from the stage production were retained including the memorable “Lover Come Back to Me,” and additional music by Herbert Stothart and others was interpolated.

Added interest is furnished by the exotic and unusual backgrounds, spectacular cavalry attacks and the intrigue of the Russian nobility.

New Departure at The Royal.

Patrons are asked to note that, commencing on Monday next, the Royal will have three shows daily, the usual matinee performance at 3, and two performances in the evening, the first starting at 7 p.m. There will be no reservation of seats, and patrons will be able to walk in any time and see a complete programme.
