Arrival Of Lord and Lady Marley

JEWISH EMERGENCY APPEAL FOR REFUGEES AND ORT-OZE

The Joint Emergency Appeal for Refugees and the Ort-Oze, which is being launched in South Africa on the 1st February, will be headed by the eminent British statesman, the Rt. Hon. Lord Marley, D.S.C., D.L., J.P., and Lady Marley, who have accepted the leadership of the Campaign.

The visitors are expected in Johannesburg on Sunday afternoon, 22nd inst., at 3.50 p.m. On Monday they will be the guests at a special Civic Luncheon to be held in their honour at the Langham Hotel. The Mayor will preside.

Lord and Lady Marley will spend some time in the city. Lord Marley, who is a non-Jew, was first attracted to the problems of Jewry through his work on behalf of European minorities, and for the past decade he has closely identified himself with many important Jewish movements.

Lady Marley, who is a daughter of the late Sir Hugh Gilzean Reid, has always taken a great interest in politics and social problems, particularly in questions pertaining to child welfare, nutrition and housing. She has co-operated with Lord Marley in his efforts on behalf of minorities and has particularly studied the work of the Jewish Health Organisation, the Oze.

SUCCESS OF JOHANNESBURG PIANIST OVERSEAS

Miss Olda Mehr, a pupil of Isador Epstein for five years, who won the overseas scholarship and entered the Royal Academy of Music, London, last September, has already made a deep impression there.

During her first term she was chosen to play the Saint Saens in G Minor Concerto with the R. A. M. Orchestra under Sir Henry Wood, a work she had studied with Isador Epstein. It is rare indeed that a student in her first term is chosen to perform under Sir Henry Wood. This is a distinct tribute to Epstein's teaching.

Miss Olive Lieberz won an exhibition scholarship recently at the University Examinations. This entitles her to complete this year for the same scholarship won by Miss Olda Mehr.

Miss Pauline Kirshon and Mr. D. Dr. Toit were awarded the Fellowship of Trinity College of Music, London.

The unterfuhrers were the parents of the bride and bridegroom, and the canopy-bearers were Mr. D. Bentel, Mr. I. Frankel, Mr. M. Berman and Mr. B. Pillemer.

The bride was attended by her bridesmaids, Miss Sally Pillemer and Miss Hilda Cohen, the flower girl, Evelyn Pillemer and the page boy Master Isidore Vaninsky.

The reception was subsequently held at the Selborne Hall.

DEANNA DURBIN AT THE COLOSSEUM

Deanna Durbin, Hollywood's 16 year-old star with the lovely voice, takes the leading role in New Universal's production "That Certain Age" showing at the Colosseum this week. Deanna's co-stars are Melvyn Douglas and Jackie Cooper, who are rivals for Deanna's affection. Others in the cast are Irene Rich, John Halliday, Nancy Carroll, Jackie Searle, Peggy Stewart and Juanita Quigley, a new find among child stars. The film is most entertaining and the songs sung by Deanna are delightful.

African Consolidated Theatres have arranged something novel in the way of midnight shows by showing a preview of "Letter of Introduction" at the theatre this evening at 11.30. This film is to be the next attraction at the Colosseum and it stars Charlie McCarthy, Edgar Bergen, Andrea Leeds, Adolph Menjou and George Murphy.

"THE SHINING HOUR" AT THE METRO

The Metro-Goldwyn Mayer studio has chosen four great stars, Joan Crawford, Margaret Sullivan, Robert Young and Melvyn Douglas to take the main roles in its presentation of "The Shining Hour" showing at the Metro this week. The play achieved brilliant success when presented on the stage. With Dean Herrick at the Wurlitzer organ and the news programme and shorts, the entertainment at the Metro this week should be particularly attractive.

EXCELLENT SHOW AT THE PLAZA

In its second week of release "Come and Get It", the attraction at the Plaza Theatre, is a dramatisation of Edna Ferber's drama of the north-west timber forests. The story is full of interest and its cast includes Edward Arnold, Joel McCrea and Frances Farmer in the leading roles. The supporting programme at the theatre this week is most entertaining.

Tom Walls, the well-known comedian, will take the main role in "Crackerjack" the next attraction at the Plaza.
