SUCCESSFUL CONCERT IN AID OF PALESTINIAN SOLDIERS' COMFORTS

The Grand Concert held on Wednesday, 18th March, at the Library Theatre in aid of Palestinian Soldiers' Comforts drew a crowded audience which filled every seat. A feeling of enthusiasm for the cause pervaded the atmosphere. All the artists received a hearty welcome.

There can be no doubt that the folk singing of Cantor I. Alter proved the highlight of a really excellent programme. Another interesting feature was the production by Irene Cohn of the "Victory V" in which the Palestine character recited excerpts from Isaiah. Lena Morrison and Jean Gluckmann sang delightfully and Suzanne Margolis and partner rendered pianoforte duets. There were many other artists, and the whole programme was compered by Mike Abel in his vigorous and fresh style, whilst hearty laughter greeted Siki Fox's native impersonation.

The function was held under the auspices of the local committee of the Palestinian Soldiers' Comforts and was organised by Miss S. Hareven and Mrs. B. Bloomberg. At the end of the concert, Mr. D. Etkind thanked the artists.

"Sundown" at the 20th Century

Of African interest is "Sundown" now showing at the 20th Century Theatre. It is a great adventure-romance in Kenya, starring that really fine actress Gene Tierney, and the equally famous actors George Sanders and Sir Cedric Hardwicke—altogether an excellent trio. This augurs well for the enjoyment film-goers will have in visiting the 20th Century Theatre this week.

Cedric Hardwicke at Empire

Sir Cedric Hardwicke puts up the greatest performance of his life in Columbia's production "The Tree of Liberty," which is the attraction at the Empire Theatre. Cary Grant and Martha Scott are also starred in this picture.

The film is not only a page torn out of history, but a stirring dramatic answer to the problems confronting America to-day, and there is some really magnificent acting in it.

"Alice" at the Standard

It is a pleasure to attend a performance of "Alice In Wonderland" at the Standard Theatre and to hear the kiddies enjoying the really fine performance given by the company of talented local children on the stage. It is altogether a delightful performance enjoyed equally by adults and juniors.

Deanna Durbin at the Colosseum

In the first picture since her marriage Deanna Durbin shares starring honours for the first time, but she certainly cannot complain because her co-star is none other than the great Charles Laughton. Assisting these two fine artists is Robert Cummings, the new romantic young actor.

"Jungle Cavalcade" at the Plaza

The attraction at the Plaza this week is of timely interest in view of the recent battles which have taken place in the Malay jungles. Vivid scenes of these territories are shown in "Jungle Cavalcade." It is a picture full of thrills, and keeps the audience intensely interested throughout.

Garbo Returns to the Metro

With Melvyn Douglas, that superb actor as her co-star, the famous Greta Garbo returns to the Metro theatre this week in "The Two-Faced Woman."

It is a sparkling comedy in which Garbo is cast as a ski-instructress at a fashionable winter resort. The film is full of wit and comedy, and it is not surprising that it is taking the town by storm.
